IT'S CLEAN-UP TIME ACROSS RIO GRANDE FOR UNITED STATES

Wilson Adopts New Mexican Policy, Having for Object Restoration of Order and Relief to Starving.

FORCE WILL BE USED IF FOUND NECESSARY

Mexican Leaders Will Be Warned Today to Compose the Intolerable Situation at Once or the United States Will Undertake Job.

Washington, June 1.—President Wilson and his cabinet today adopted a new Mexican policy. It has for its object the restoration of order and the relief of millions of non-combatants from the devastations of Mexico's military elements, which have brought about conditions described as intolerable.

The president read to the cabinet a statement to be communicated tomorrow to the leaders of all Mexican factions, serving notice that unless they themselves compose the situation, some other means will be found by the United States to bring about the establishment of a stable government. The statement was approved after prolonged discussion. It will be made public tomorrow.

The specific course the United States will pursue in the event the contending factions fail to agree is not outlined in the president's statement, but the administration's present purpose is to give moral support to a coalition of the best elements in Mexico, and accord the government thereby created, formal recognition. With such recognition would come an embargo on arms permitting the constituted government to receive munitions of war to the exclusion of all other elements and factions.

Intervention If Necessary.

That the government's policy if unsuccessful in this course might require ultimate intervention has been considered, and the intention to insist on a settlement has not been swayed by the possible necessity of such action. In high executive quarters, however, confidence prevails that the expression of the American government's attitude will clear up misapprehensions that have existed in Mexico, as to its intentions and bring about the desired coalition government.

The administration's policy is the culmination of several weeks of conferences between the president and his official family. The return of Duval West, who spent three months personally investigating conditions in Mexico for the president was the deciding factor.

The American Red Cross already has laid plans for relief work to be carried out in co-operation with the state department. The Carranza agency has issued several statements denying shortage of food and saying the stories of famine are exaggerated, but the Washington government is not taking these into consideration because of its own reports.

Carranza's Actions Belie Words.

In this connection Elliseo Arredondo, head of the Carranza agency, made public tonight the following telegram from General Carranza, dated Vera Cruz:

"The last military successes have made clear the triumph of our cause and, therefore, I have allowed the free importation of all kinds of food supplies into the city of Mexico."

The Washington government has repeatedly received assurances from General Carranza that food would be permitted to be shipped to Mexico City to relieve famine conditions. Official reports, however, told a few days ago of the seizure by Carranza troops of a large shipment of corn started for the capital. A statement by Arredondo tonight reiterated denial of this charge.

Talk of an embargo on arms was revived in official quarters today. Miss Mabel Boardman, of the American Red Cross, forwarded some suggestion to the white house that an embargo be declared, but later a statement was issued at the Red Cross headquarters saying this suggestion was not made by the society itself.

Looting and Suffering.

Reports from many sections of the southern republic were made public tonight by the Red Cross, telling of looting and suffering. Among these were telegrams announcing that both the Villa and Carranza forces were looting the property of an American citizen named Oehner, at Colima. One of these messages added:

"Carranza guarantees futile. His orders for protection of rights and property of foreigners largely ignored. It is clear that neither high officials nor subordinates, military officers, can enforce orders even if sincere in desire to protect foreigners. The situation now is entirely one of local issue and graft affecting and concerning the local military leader only."

Persons fleeing from Mexico City, the reports said, "confirm all the reports of desperate situation and agree in fear of demands on foreigners and reprisals if supply of corn for populace should fail."

At Hermosillo, Sonora, according to mail advices received today, "there is a terrible state of affairs and there are fears that the looting of a whole town is only postponed."

Stories False, Says Carranza.

Elisee Arredondo, head of the Carranza agency, gave out a statement tonight saying:

"I am directed by Mr. Carranza today to say that the scandal provoked in the press of the United States over the exaggerated shortage of foodstuffs in the City of Mexico has for its only source the violent complaints of a group of residents of the capital called 'the international committee.'

"I am authorized by the constitutionalist government, which I represent here, to make an emphatic denial that any forces of Mr. Carranza have intercepted the importation of the 600

THE NEXT STEP!

PRESIDENT JAMES QUITS DIXIE ROUTE

Tenders His Resignation as Head of Highway Association in Letter to the Commissioners.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 1.—Charles E. James, in a letter sent to the chairman and members of the Dixie Highway commission today, resigned as president and director of the Dixie Highway association, stating that he expected to devote his time to helping build a "short line" through Tennessee and Kentucky to the Ohio river, "to Cincinnati or Louisville or both."

He declares that this "short line" is "just what was contemplated at the outset and before the governors met on invitation and, for reasons not necessary to recite here, went beyond the province contemplated by the Dixie Highway association in delegating others to conclude what he had hoped the governors themselves would accomplish."

Mr. James says he has concluded, after studying the map of the routes chosen, "that there is no use for me to try to assume any official responsibility for a road laid out on the present lines. It has taken me two days," he says, "after diligent reading of the newspaper reports of your proceedings, to trace all the routes you located. I find that you have cut out all the center or short route in every state from Michigan through Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia. With a few exceptions, the road is as complicated as it was possible to make it and cater to the interests of the individuals interested."

Mr. James further insists that the commissioners had no authority to locate more than one route in any one state. The action of the commission in this and other instances, he says, was arbitrary. The Dixie Highway association, he alleges, got scant consideration from the commissioners either in Louisville or Chattanooga, where they were "kept sitting on hall benches for several hours."

In view of what he considers this lack of consideration, and because of the alleged complications of the routes chosen, Mr. James resigns, but says he hopes "you will get some one to finish what the Dixie Highway association started and which you have designated."

Shirts and Collars, Too Small for Thief, Are Returned by Him

Story of the Most Considerate Burglar on Record Is Told by John Moye, of 254 Lucile Avenue.

One of the most considerate thieves on record visited the residence of John F. Moye, of 254 Lucile avenue.

Last Thursday the thief stole from the front hall of Mr. Moye's residence a bundle of laundry containing eight shirts and about two dozen collars. After he had carried the bundle away he tried on the shirts and collars, found they were a misfit and returned the bundle.

Mr. Moye, who is connected with The Constitution's circulation department, states that when he found the returned bundle on his front porch Tuesday morning one of the shirts and collars had been worn and a string in the shirt and a slit in the collar showed that the outfit had been too small for the thief.

"I found the bundle," he says, "under the swing on my front porch, and not a shirt or a collar was missing. I am certainly glad that I was a smaller man than the considerate thief."

NEAR BEER DEALERS IN ATHENS ENJOINED

Action Is Taken Under the "Nuisance Abatement" Section of Code.

Athens, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—Late tonight Judge Brand granted a temporary injunction against three wholesale and ten retail "near beer" dealers, restraining them from alleged selling of malt, alcoholic and intoxicating liquors under the "nuisance abatement" section of the code.

The hearing will be July 1. The order will be served Wednesday morning. Twenty-five prominent business men of the place are back of the movement, and two of the leading law firms in Georgia are pressing the case.

It is believed that the beer business will be permanently ended in Athens in its present form by this procedure. The injunction came as a great surprise. Several cars of "near beer" were received by wholesalers here today.

It is said that United States license analysis of the beverage expert and experimental testimony will be used to sustain the permanent injunction.

CLUB MAN TO PEN FOR KILLING WOMAN WITH AUTOMOBILE

Baltimore, June 1.—James Walsh, wealthy club man and president of an automobile company, was sentenced here today to two years in the penitentiary for causing the death of Mrs. Annie McI. Seymour, whom he struck with his automobile last March. Several witnesses testified that Walsh was under the influence of liquor at the time.

CLAIM NINE VOTES FOR M. L. BRITTAIN

Friends Declare That He Is Certain of Election to Succeed Superintendent Slaton Saturday.

Claiming nine votes already pledged, friends of M. L. Brittain Tuesday stated that they were marking time until Saturday morning, when they plan to elect him superintendent of Atlanta's public schools to succeed W. M. Slaton. Friends of Mr. Slaton said they expected a tie vote.

It was said that a caucus of Mr. Brittain's friends would be held this week before Saturday to decide on a course for the meeting and to canvass the list of teachers. One leading member of the board declared such a meeting was unnecessary and said that the election of Brittain had been assured for several months.

"Eight other members of the board have given their pledge to me personally that they will support Mr. Brittain and they are as determined to elect him as I am," said one of Mr. Brittain's most active supporters. "The action of Alderman Jesse W. Armistead in throwing his support to Mr. Slaton will not in any way affect the final result."

Superintendent Must Nominate.

Since no teachers can be elected until nominated by the superintendent, it may be necessary to hold an adjourned session of the board some time next week, so as to give the superintendent sufficient time in which to look over the list and make his recommendations.

It is said that Mr. Brittain has already been made acquainted with the list of teachers as it now stands and including the new applications. In this case, if elected Saturday morning, he may qualify upon election and make his nominations so that action can be taken by the board without delay.

Members of the board are confident that Mr. Brittain will accept the position if tendered him, since he has at no time stated that he would not accept.

For several years Mr. Brittain taught in the Boys' High school and was at one time principal. He served several years as superintendent of the Fulton county schools, when he was elected state superintendent.

Has Had Long Experience.

Mr. Slaton has been head of the Atlanta schools eight years and previous to that time was for fifteen years principal of the Boys' High school.

That Assistant Superintendent L. M. Landrum will also be removed is a part of the plan of Mr. Brittain's friends on the board. The assistant is elected on recommendation of the superintendent. Several prominent local school men have been mentioned in this connection who are known to be satisfactory to Mr. Brittain. It is understood that the election of the assistant superintendent will be made at the meeting Saturday morning.

There are more than 600 teachers to be elected and twenty-seven new teachers for the high school department. No additional teachers will be named for the grammar schools, since a change has been made in the course of study by which the eighth grade is sent to the high school, thereby leaving a sufficient number of teachers in the grammar schools to care for the normal increase in attendance.

TEUTONS RENEW BLOODY THRUST FOR PRZEMYSL

Berlin Claims That Three Other Forts Have Fallen, But These Claims Are Denied by Petrograd.

STUPENDOUS LOSSES SUFFERED BY GERMANS

But the Kaiser's Forces Continue to Charge Russian Lines—Sharp Fighting Also Reported on West Front.

London, June 1.—In the face of yesterday's Russian claims that the Austro-German grip on Przemysl had been broken, and that the offensive in the great Galician struggle had passed to the Russians, came both German and Austrian official statements tonight, asserting that the Austro-German troops have been successful to the north and the southeast of the fortress, that the forts girdling it to the north have fallen into their hands, while to the southeast they have wrested Stry from the Russians. In fact, the Austro-Germans say that the campaign is running in their favor everywhere in the eastern zone from Libau in the north to the southernmost tip of the Galician battle line.

It is apparent that the Russians, since being forced back to the San, have been rushing up heavy reinforcements in the hope of averting the fall of Przemysl. But the Austro-Germans, undeterred by stupendous losses, have as yet shown little disposition to accept a purely defensive role, and the British critics seem to have been a bit premature in saying that the German thrust had definitely failed.

Paris admits recapture by the Germans of portions of trenches on the outskirts of the Le Pretre forest, but at other points on the western line claims progress for the allies, notably to the north of Arras, at Souchez, where heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans, and in the Labyrinth, near Neuville St. Vaast, where the German works, the French assert, are falling into their hands.

TEUTONS REPULSED, RUSSIANS REPORT.

Petrograd, June 1.—(Via Paris, June 2, 2:33 a. m.)—An official communication issued this evening says:

"In the region of Shavli there has been no important changes. West of the village of Kurkoviany the fighting continues on the front of Travliany-Gailiski. We captured Monday, after a bayonet fight, the latter village, which was strongly organized, and which the Germans defended stubbornly.

"On the left bank of the Vistula Monday night the enemy developed an active artillery fire on the whole front north of the Pilica river. Toward 4 o'clock the enemy spreading a cloud of smoke and making an extensive use of deleterious gas, attacked with considerable forces our position on the Bzura river near Brohow, Sochaczew and Koslow, and displayed special tenacity on the lower Rawka river in the sector marked by the villages of Mizerka, Volia and Szidlowska.

"Despite the expenditure of an enormous quantity of asphyxiating gas, the odor of which was perceptible twenty miles behind our front, all the enemy attacks were repulsed.

"In Galicia the enemy, after preparations made during the preceding days, opened on Sunday a violent fire and delivered a series of attacks against our front west and northwest of Przemysl defined by the line of forts from No. 7 to No. 11. During Sunday night the enemy approached to within 200 paces of some of these sectors and attacked and even broke into the precincts of Fort No. 7, around which surged an obstinate fight which lasted until 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Monday when the enemy was repulsed with enormous losses.

"The remnants of the enemy who had entered Fort No. 7, numbering 23 officers and 600 men, were taken prisoners.

"On the front above the Dniester the enemy, consisting mainly of Germans, threw the reserves into battle in the region close to Stry. The result of the fighting here is not yet known.

"On the River Svitza our troops continue their success. Of the prisoners taken here those counted between May 28 and 30 while on their way to the rear numbered 238 officers and 10,442 men."

PROGRESS MADE, GERMANS REPORT.

Berlin, June 1.—(Via London.)—The war office gave out the following statement today:

"The French yesterday attempted to break through further north. An attack on a front of about 1½ miles directed against our positions between the Souchez-Bethune road and the Brook at Caroney broke down under our fire with heavy losses to the enemy. The only point at which hand-to-hand fighting developed was west of Souchez, where we were victorious.

"In the forest of Le Pretre we succeeded in recapturing the greater part of our lost trenches. Here the enemy suffered considerable losses.

"In other sectors our artillery had some gratifying successes. As the result of one full hit on the French camp to the south of Mourmelon-Le-Grand, between 300 and 400 horses broke loose and rushed about in all directions. Numerous vehicles, including many motor cars, quickly left the camp.

"A munitions depot of the enemy, north of Sainte Menehould and northeast of Verdun, was blown up.

"As a reprisal for the bombardment of the open town of Ludwigshafen, we threw numerous bombs last night on wharves and docks of London. Enemy airmen last night bombarded Ostend, damaging some houses without causing any other injury.

"In the eastern theater of war, near Amboten, fifty kilometres (about 30 miles) east of Libau, Courland, German cavalry defeated the Russian Fourth regiment of dragoons. Near Shavli, hostile attacks were unsuccessful. Our booty in the month of May north of the Niemen river

For Law or Outlawry? Wilson to Put Question To German Government And Ask Quick Answer

President and Cabinet Decide United States Must Learn at Once From Germany Whether She Intends to Be Governed by Law or Follow Her Own Rules.

UNFAVORABLE ANSWER WILL MEAN SEVERANCE OF ALL INTERCOURSE

On Ground That the United States Cannot Continue Relations With Country Which Repudiates Principles of Law and Humanity, United States Will Insist on Prompt Answer From Germany—Messages of Loyalty From All Parts of Country Received at the White House.

Washington, June 1.—President Wilson determined today that the United States must ascertain definitely and promptly from Germany whether that country intends in the future to be guided by the accepted principles of international law and the rights of neutrals or to follow its own rules of maritime warfare.

The president listened to a varied expression of opinion at a meeting of his cabinet, taking little part in the discussion himself. Later he began the preparation of a note to be dispatched before the end of this week, embodying his own ideas and what seemed to him the consensus of his official family.

GERMAN REPLY AN AFFRONT.

The verdict of a majority of the cabinet was that the German reply to the American note following the sinking of the Lusitania was unresponsive and unsatisfactory, disregarding the good will of the United States, doubting its facts and disclaiming all blame for the destruction of the merchantman with American lives. The questions of fact raised by Germany were regarded as irrelevant at this time.

The trend of opinion was that the United States must learn soon whether Germany intends to recognize the hitherto accepted principle that neutrals may travel anywhere on the high seas on unarmed merchant ships, even if carrying contraband, and that merchantmen which do not resist capture must be visited and searched and the passengers and crew transferred to a place of safety before the vessel is destroyed.

MAY SEVER RELATIONS.

An unfavorable answer to this inquiry would lead, it was predicted in official quarters, to a severance of diplomatic relations on the ground that the United States could not continue

FRANK AND CONLEY WILL MEET TODAY

Testimony Will Be Taken at Tower for Use in Mrs. Coleman's Suit Against Pencil Factory.

Interest in the case of Leo M. Frank centers today in the meeting at 3 o'clock this afternoon of the prisoner and his accuser, Jim Conley, at the hearing to be held in the Tower in the case of Mrs. J. W. Coleman v. the National Pencil factory.

Luther Z. Rosser, one of the leading counsel for Frank during his trial, represents the pencil factory, and is expected to put an interesting line of questions to the negro when he is called upon to testify to the death of Mary Phagan. Frank, too, will be examined to establish the fact that Mary Phagan was slain in the pencil plant.

James L. Key represents Mrs. Coleman in her suit, which is for $10,000 damages for the death of her daughter, Mary Phagan. When the suit was filed counsel for the pencil plant objected to the use of the trial evidence to establish the fact that Mary Phagan was killed in the factory building. It was demanded that witnesses be produced to this end.

The action of the pencil factory counsel in forcing Conley to testify causes considerable speculation. Conley goes free today, having served ten months of the twelve to which he was sentenced. The two months were taken from his sentence for good behavior.

The examination this afternoon will be held in the jail before Commissioner Friers, court stenographer, deputized for the occasion.

The prison commission will probably meet today to consider the Frank commutation. It is hardly believed, however, that a decision will be reached for several days.

The delegation from Cobb county appeared before the prison commission Tuesday morning and presented the petition protesting against the commutation of Frank and denouncing the interference of outside influences.

Also a large number of petitions from Atlanta and various other portions of the state were received in the office of Solicitor General Dorsey Tuesday.

SAVANNAHIANS THINK FRANK WILL GET COMMUTATION

Savannah, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—Members of the Savannah bar who appeared before the prison commission in Atlanta yesterday to aid in the effort to secure a commutation of Leo Frank's death sentence, returned this morning. Those who appeared were Judge Samual B. Adams, who acted as spokesman; T. M. Cunningham and A. A. Lawrence.

The Savannahians are very hopeful of the outcome. While none of them wished to be quoted directly, they believe clemency will be exercised by the commission. A strong plea in behalf of Frank was made before the commission, they said, and they believe it will be effective.

TWO HURT WHEN ELEVATOR FALLS

Dr. C. H. House and Miss Nina Hagan, a Nurse, Are Injured at the Georgian Hospital.

Dr. C. H. House, house physician, and Miss Nina Hagan, a nurse, narrowly escaped instant death in the elevator of the Georgian hospital Tuesday evening when it fell from the third floor to the basement.

Dr. House and Miss Hagan were the only occupants of the elevator at the time of the accident and were making an ascent to the fourth floor. Dr. J. R. Duvall, superintendent of the hospital, and Dr. Samuel Green, who were talking in the consulting room, rushed to the rear of the building when they heard the loud crash of the fallen car and rendered first aid to the sufferers.

When Dr. House, who weighs three hundred pounds, was extricated from the wreckage it was found that he had sustained a fracture of the lower left leg and was suffering from internal injuries. He lives with his wife in Kirkwood. Miss Hagan, who is from Bowdon, Ga., received a wrenched back and also complains of internal pains.

"Both the patients are resting as comfortably as could be expected," said Superintendent Duvall, "and no complications are expected at this time. Had the heavy pulley wheel, which also fell, broken through the roof of the elevator the accident would have been far more serious than it is. This accident is unaccountable to us, as the elevator, which is insured, was tested Monday by an expert and pronounced in an excellent condition."

intercourse with a government which repudiated these principles. Steps then would be taken to inform Americans of the dangers to which they were exposed as a result of this action, and such measures as necessary adopted to safeguard the lives and interests of citizens of the United States. Should Germany accept the principle in a way that would constitute a guarantee for the future, the American government would reiterate its demand for a "strict accountability" for violations of this principle and the killing of Americans on the Lusitania.

The decision to base the American note on the principles of international law to obtain an affirmative or negative reply, and not enter into a technical discussion of details raised in the German communication, was the single development of the cabinet council. Some members favored even excluding any reference to the facts asked for by Germany, settling first the point as to whether Germany intended to disregard the American warning of last February that it would insist upon the exercise of the right of visit and search with respect to vessels on which Americans were traveling.

DELAY OPPOSED BY CABINET.

One cabinet officer believed the American government should enter into an investigation of the points raised by the German answer, submitting its proof and giving the German government an opportunity to do likewise. Others, however, declared that such a process would mean only delay and in the event of a deadlock on facts, would leave the United States, which had already assured itself of the authenticity of its information and whose good faith was at stake, without remedy for the present or future attacks on American vessels having been committed, notwithstanding assurances to the contrary. The opinion was general that the United States would restate that the Lusitania was unarmed and would ignore such questions as to whether the carriage of ammuntion is a violation of American law.

Tomorrow Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, will call on President Wilson. The ambassador requested the interview. He declined to say tonight what he proposed to discuss. In well-informed quarters the belief was expressed that while the ambassador's visit might not affect the forthcoming note, what the president might say informally to the ambassador would be transmitted to the German government and be taken into consideration when the American communication is delivered in Berlin.

KAISER'S AGENT MAY SUGGEST.

In some diplomatic quarters close to the German embassy, it was said tonight that the ambassador would seek to elicit from President Wilson his views on how Germany could conduct her submarine warfare without interfering with neutrals, and might suggest the separation of passenger and contraband traffic or the giving of assurances that the British government would not arm its merchantmen carrying passengers.

None of these reported proposals, officials conversant with the position of the government indicated, would be considered until a definite acquiescence by Germany in the fundamental principles of international law was obtained. Today's cabinet meeting indicated that the government did not intend to yield any of the rights which neutrals hitherto have possessed, and that it would stand firmly on the position as outlined in previous notes.

The cabinet divided two and a half hours in discussion of the European and Mexican situations. The president saw some callers earlier in the day. He showed calmness and no signs of strain. As the cabinet assembled in the executive offices, individual members by their attitude reflected the gravity of the situation.

No announcements were made after the meeting adjourned.

Expressions of confidence in the president came in telegrams from all parts of the country during the day. Members of the cabinet spoke of this, and declared that the president's view of the entire problem was such that he could be depended upon in his action to maintain the honor and dignity of the country.

NO GUNS CARRIED BY THE LUSITANIA.

Officials reiterated today that the United States has absolute proof that the Lusitania was unarmed—that details of an investigation made by customs inspectors at New York before the Lusitania sailed, the assurance of the British government that no merchantman would be permitted to sail armed from the United States and a report by Collector Malone on all the articles in the Lusitania's cargo, including ammunition, were before the Washington government when the note of May 13 was written by the president.

It became known tonight that when the note was first drafted it pointed out that lives of American citizens could not be lawfully placed in jeopardy on merchantmen "which did not resist capture," but on mature deliberation and an investigation of all the facts, the words "unarmed merchantmen" were inserted covering all cases in strict conformity with recognized principles of international law in the past.

One of the suggestions made in official quarters today was that Germany easily could have learned the status of British merchantmen leaving American ports by inquiry at the state department and that if, prior to the sailing of the Lusitania, information tending to prove that the Lusitania would carry guns on its voyage were in the possession of German submarine commanders, this should have been submitted to the American government so that measures could have been taken to convince the German government on this point and assure the safety of Americans on board the vessel.

OUTBOUND VESSELS EXAMINED FOR GUNS.

Early in the war, it was explained at the state department, instructions were sent to collectors of the various ports of the United States dealing with the questions of armament. While the carrying of a six-inch gun for defensive purposes on a merchantman to repel attack is a recognized right under international law, the United States nevertheless obtained from Great Britain assurances that her vessels would not be armed and American collectors were instructed to allow no British ships to clear if guns were mounted or concealed.

In one case at New Orleans recently guns were found and clearance refused until taken from the ship. All outbound vessels have been examined by American officials for guns, mounted or stored in the holds.

The question of foreign merchantmen carrying armament was first brought to the attention of the state department by the German embassy when the British steamer Adriatic arrived last summer with guns mounted. It was then the department entered into its informal negotiations with Great Britain to secure the disarming of all vessels. Officials since then had taken for granted that any deviation from this arrangement would be promptly brought to its attention by the German government.

FRENCH EDITORS ON GERMAN REPLY.

Paris, June 1.—Under the caption, "What Will America Do?" the French press comments on Germany's reply to the United States' note of protest regarding the sinking of the Lusitania. All papers agree in characterizing the answer as another German diplomatic "blunder." They declare Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg is endeavoring to open a controversy to gain time.

The Matin says the imperial chancellor invites the United States to abandon neutrality by exerting pressure on Great Britain to induce the latter country to give up her blockade, "that is to say, abandon her naval supremacy," in consideration of which the German admiralty would "cease assassinating the passengers and crews of unarmed ships."

The Journal believes Germany, notwithstanding the calm moderation of President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan, who have resolved not to be forced into anything precipitate, will end by exasperating America. The paper declares the president and his secretary of state are democratic leaders of a democratic nation who must follow rather than lead public opinion.

An editorial in La Patrie says:

"Such a reply, awaited by the United States for so long, is an abuse of American patience and presents an unreal basis of discussion. We do not believe that President Wilson, any more than any of his fellow citizens, will find this response other than a misplaced joke."

The Temps says:

"The German reply to President Wilson is a curious monument to quibbling, but it will not satisfy Americans. To the precise request for disavowal of the torpedoing of neutrals formulated by the United States, the imperial chancellery answers with an indictment of the victims of its piracies. It accuses the British company owning the Lusitania of taking aboard American citizens will full knowledge that they were serving to protect the transportation of ammunition.

"This consciousless cynicism will be appreciated on the other side of the Atlantic in the same way as the explanation of the sinking of the Falaba and the loss of life of an American citizen 'because the ship tried to escape.'"

TAFT'S OPINION OF GERMAN NOTE.

New Haven, Conn., June 1.—Former President William H. Taft when asked to comment upon the German reply to the American note, said:

JINGOES RAPPED BY CHAMP CLARK.

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 1.—Speaker Champ Clark in an address today before a local democratic organization said in connection with Germany's reply to the American note:

"President Wilson should not be hampered by anybody going about the country giving out interviews about what should or should not be done.

"If I could reach out and grab by the neck every jingo in the country and put them into the trenches in Europe I would be glad to do it."

PLEA FOR TEUTONS MADE TO WILSON.

New York, June 1.—Dr. G. E. Berkemeier, chairman of the executive committee of the American Independence union, of which Richard Bartholdt, former representative in congress from Missouri, is president, and Herman Ridder, honorary president, signed a message sent tonight to President Wilson, embodying a resolution passed by the committee which appeals for a continuance of the nation's neutrality in the war.

"We feel," the message reads, "that the greatest danger which threatens us is the violation of that neutrality which you have so solemnly enjoined on our nation at the outbreak of the war. We beseech you to use every means consistent with the honor and dignity of our country to uphold this neutrality."

The message says that "only the one party has full opportunity of presenting its side" of "the great question now agitating our country" and that "there are twenty to twenty-five million loyal citizens of the United States who are in sympathy with Germany and Austria and profoundly convinced of their righteous cause."

The message assures the president of the unhesitating loyalty of those in whose behalf it is sent and of their "unflinching fidelity to the cause of their country."

WILSON INDORSED BY THE CLOTHIERS.

Atlantic City, N. J., June 1.—The National Association of Clothiers' convention today indorsed President Wilson's course in regard to the Lusitania disaster and recorded the organization as unanimously in support of whatever action he may take. Delegates reported improved trade conditions as a result of the modification of the British embargo on wool.

FLAT REFUSAL BY GERMANY.

London, June 2.—(3:06 a. m.)—A Times editorial today says:

"Stripped of the irrelevancies in which Herr von Jagow loves to involve the issue of a controversy, the German reply amounts to a flat refusal of the American demands and to a repudiation not less absolute of the doctrines on which these demands are based. In other words, Germany means to continue her submarine campaign as before and to practice the method of attack which President Wilson and Secretary Bryan brand as a violation of rules of fairness, reason, justice and humanity.

"Germany places herself above all law. She scarcely affects concealment; she sweeks aside every principle and every safeguard of human rights which mankind has adopted throughout the centuries and substitutes International nihilism for them all."

amounts to 24,700 prisoners, 17 cannon and 47 machine guns; south of the Niemen and the Pilica, 6,943 prisoners, 11 machine guns and one aeroplane.

"In the southeastern theater of war: In front of Przemysl, Bavarian troops yesterday stormed Forts 10-A, 11-A and 12, west of Dunkowiczki, capturing the remainder of a garrison of 3,400 men, with 18 heavy and five light cannon. The Russians attempted to escape their fate by an attack in masses against our positions east of Jaroslau, but failed, an enormous number of dead covering the battlefield before our front.

"The conquerors of Zwinin (a ridge in the Carpathians)—the Prussian guard under command of the Bavarian general, Count Bothmer—stormed a strongly fortified place on the Stry, and broke through Russian positions near and northwest of Stry. Up to the present time we have captured in this region 53 officers, 9,182 men, eight cannon and fifteen machine guns."

AUSTRIAN FIRE STOPS RUSSIANS.

Vienna, June 1.—(Via Amsterdam and London.)—The following official communication was issued today:

"East of the San our troops were attacked Monday night along the entire front by strong Russian forces. This was especially true on the lower Lubaczowka, where superior forces attempted to advance. All the attacks were repulsed with severe losses to the enemy, who at some points retreated in disorder.

"On the lower San, below Sieniawa, Russian attacks also failed.

"On the north front of Przemysl, Bavarian troops stormed three defenses of the girdle of forts, capturing 1,400 prisoners and twenty-eight heavy guns.

"South of the Dniester the allied troops penetrated the enemy's defensive position, defeated the Russians and conquered Stry, the enemy retreating toward the Uniester. We captured fifty-three officers and over 9,000 prisoners, eight cannon and fifteen machine guns.

"On the Pruth and in Poland the situation is unchanged."

RADOM EVACUATED BY THE RUSSIANS.

Berlin, June 1.—(Via London.)—According to an unofficial report from Plotrkow, Russian Poland, the Russians have evacuated Radom, in Poland, to the south of Warsaw.

GAINS CLAIMED BY THE FRENCH.

Paris, June 1.—The following official communication was issued by the war office tonight:

"Very spirited action has taken place in the sector to the north of Arras and we have realized new progress.

"Notwithstanding several counter attacks, the enemy has not been able to dislodge us from the trenches conquered by us in the wood adjoining the road from Aix-Noulette to Souchez. We also have maintained our gains to the northwest of the Chapel of Lorette.

"The violent engagements, of which the sugar refinery at Souchez had been the center for two days, has ended to our advantage, and we have occupied the refinery. During the course of the night the enemy recaptured it, but at daybreak we drove him out and we remain masters of the position in spite of all counter attacks. We have inflicted heavy losses on our adversaries.

"In the 'Labyrinth,' southeast of Neuville, we continue to carry one by one the German works. We have made important progress in the northern part of that fortified system and have taken about 150 prisoners. All the ground gained has been conserved.

"In the outskirts of Le Pretre forest, after a violent bombardment, the enemy has retaken from us some portions of the trenches which we had gained the day before yesterday. We have strengthened all the rest of our gains.

"In the Vosges, near Fontenelle, north of St. Die, during the night of May 30-31, a German attack in which two companies participated was repulsed by us with heavy losses for the enemy."

RUSSIANS HURRY TO PREMYSL FRONT.

Amsterdam, June 1.—(Via London.) According to The Graz, Austria, Tages Post, the Russians are bringing at least three or four corps of reinforcements to the Przemysl front and the lower San.

"If still more reinforcements are brought up by the Russians," says The Tages Post's military correspondent, "we must reckon with protracted resistance by the enemy."

SUBMARINE CHASED ALLAN LINER CORSICAN

Montreal, June 1.—The Allan liner Corsican, which arrived at Glasgow today with about a thousand passengers, was chased by a submarine near Queenstown, according to a special cable dispatch to The Montreal Star.

The Corsican received a warning by wireless from the Megantic and was on the lookout for the under-water craft

WATER ROUTES KNOCKED BY GEORGIA PROFESSOR

Chicago, June 1.—Walter L. Fisher, former secretary of the interior; Governor Dunne, of Illinois, and William A. Shelton, of the University of Georgia, were speakers tonight at a conference of the Western Economic society regarding the proposed lakes-to-gulf waterway for which the Illinois legislature has just appropriated $5,000,000 for an eight-foot channel from Lockport, Ill., to Utica, Ill.

Invitations to the conference had announced that there were two sides to the waterways question and much interest was displayed as to the character of the various addresses. This was particularly the case in regard to former Secretary Fisher. He suggested a constructive policy of government control to confine the traffic of waterways to low-grade bulk freight.

Professor Shelton took the position that the proposed waterway could be nothing but a wasteful failure.

Even the Mississippi river system, with its constantly increasing depth, he said, was a commercial failure and the waterway between Lockport and Utica would be much less efficient than the Mississippi river below St. Louis.

"River traffic never can compete with rail traffic," said Professor Shelton. "This is demonstrated by the way the roads have driven freight off the Mississippi and Ohio rivers. Business men prefer to ship by rail. Efforts have been made from time to time to revive the old water routes, but each attempt has proved a financial failure."

Governor Dunne declared the proposed waterway would afford a continued water route eight feet in depth from Lake Michigan to Cairo and thence by the Mississippi river to New Orleans and the Gulf of Mexico.

"I believe a tremendous commerce will be developed over this waterway," he said, "as soon as it is opened to the public, with New Orleans 1,000 miles nearer the Panama canal than are the ports of Boston, Philadelphia and New York."

PREACHER ARRESTED FOR WHITE SLAVERY

Pensacola, June 1.—(Special.)—charged with violating the Mann white slave law by transporting from one state to another a female for immoral purposes, Rev. James Wilson, who has three churches in his charge in Pontotoc county, Mississippi, is held in jail here, while the girl in the case, Miss Odell Carter, is detained at a boarding house by United States officers.

The girl is a Buxom country lassie, of 22 years, and has the appearance of considerable education and refinement. Wilson is a man of about 35 years of age, and is said to have a wife and six children at his home in Mississippi.

The detection came about through the fact that Wilson is alleged, in leaving Pontotoc county, to have taken a horse and buggy to which he had no legal right. A man named Owens, who claims ownership, traced the couple through Mississippi, Alabama and into Florida. They had left Pontotoc county on April 17, traveling from one place to another holding revival meetings.

tons of corn so often alluded to in press reports, even though those interested in giving it circulation may have succeeded in inducing the Brazilian minister, in charge of American interests in Mexico, to voice the same as authentic. My government furthermore directs me to bring to the attention of the American people that the description of conditions in Mexico as sent to the department of state and to the press is highly exaggerated and I am directed to call especial attention to the fact that the City of Mexico is controlled by the Zapatista forces and not by those of my government.

"General Carranza has ready 800,000 bushels of corn for the relief of Mexico City and the only reason he does not send it into the city in advance of his troops is that it would fall into the hands of the Zapatistas and be used to feed his enemies without the slightest chance of relieving the suffering of the poor."

MEXICAN LEADERS WAIT FOR NOTE.

El Paso, Texas, June 1.—General Obregon's Carranza army and the Villa forces faced each other today in central Mexico virtually under a truce, pending receipt of President Wilson's note to Mexican chieftains, which is expected tomorrow.

George C. Carothers, special agent of the state department to the Villa faction, arrived today at Chihuahua City, to await the telegraphic transmission of the president's message.

It was learned that Carothers, together with several of Villa's cabinet members, then would proceed south to meet Villa and present to him the American message. Villa has left the battle front below Leon and returned north to Aguas Calientes, there to await the delivery of the message from Washington.

RUMANIA TURNING SCREWS ON AUSTRIA

Austrian Cabinet to Refuse Rumanian Demands — Believed Rumania Will Enter the War.

London, June 2.—(3:02 a. m.)—"According to news from the Austrian frontier," says The Morning Post's Berne correspondent, "the Austrian ministry met Monday—representatives from Berlin being present—to discuss the Rumanian note. It is understood that Rumania's demands will be refused. The relations between the two countries already are strained.

"Professor Basilesco, a Rumanian deputy, in an article in The Geneva Journal, estimates that the Rumanian army has now 1,000,000 men equipped, which will present a problem on a new 600-mile front to the Austrian strategists."

A Copenhagen dispatch on April 22 quoted the Rumanian minister to Italy as having said that Rumania had demanded cessions of territory from Austria in return for remaining neutral in the war, but that Austria had refused to acquiesce. Just what these alleged demands were was not stated, but the minister was reported to have said that there existed a defensive alliance between Rumania and Italy and that Italy would not accept any offer from Austria without having received the sanction of Rumania.

While there have been several rumors recently concerning Rumania and the war—that she would remain neutral and that she was negotiating with the allies and was believed to be on the brink of war—nothing has come through of any demands made on Austria.

London, June 2.—(3:02 a. m.)—A dispatch to The Daily Mail from Rome says that the Italian newspapers hail as an accomplished fact the approaching entry of Rumania and Bulgaria into the war.

INITIALS APPROVED BY U. S. SUPREME COURT

Washington, June 1.—Use of initials in business affairs, even in bankruptcy proceedings, instead of full names, was approved today by the supreme court, which reversed a decision of the Indiana supreme court that it was not a satisfactory compliance with the bankruptcy law for George F. Kreitlin, of Indianapolis, to register as one of his creditors "C. Ferger," rather than "Charles Ferger." The court also held it was not necessary for a bankrupt to give street addresses of creditors, even in large cities.

ITALIAN INVADERS STILL ADVANCING; AUSTRIANS RETREAT

Thirty-Seven Villages Are Taken by Italians in Province of Trent, and the City of Trent Is Threatened.

London, June 1.—The Italian army invading the Austrian province of Trent from the east, having previously captured the town of Cortina, sixty miles northeast of the city of Trent, now has occupied thirty-seven villages in the surrounding district.

The Austrians continue to fall back, presumably having determined to give battle on fields of their own choosing.

The Austrian city of Rovereto, whose elaborate defenses are relied on to check the Italians from pushing up the Adige river valley and besieging Trent, now is threatened by the invaders.

Rovereto lies thirteen miles south of Trent, capture of which is one of Italy's great objectives. An official Rome statement says the Italians have occupied the important height of Zugna, which dominates Rovereto.

The other important Italian move, across the eastern border, which has the capture of Triest as its apparent objective, has been slowed up by swollen rivers, but the official statement says progress is being made.

37 TOWNS TAKEN BY THE ITALIANS.

Udine, Italy, June 1.—(Via Paris.)—Italian troops have occupied thirty-seven villages surrounding Cortina, in the Ampezzo valley.

The troops which occupied these towns constitute the Italian army invading the province of Trent from the east, simultaneously with invasions from the south and west. Cortina, occupation of which by the Italians was announced yesterday, lies sixty miles northeast of Trent.

The municipal authorities of Cortina today sent a telegram to King Victor Emmanuel, expressing their loyalty to him.

Monfalcone, northwest of Triest, is being closely pressed both from land and sea.

AUSTRIAN AIRSHIPS ATTACK BRINDISI.

Rome, June 1.—(Via Paris.)—Austrian aeroplanes have flown over Bari and Brindisi, seaports on the Adriatic in southern Italy. They threw bombs which killed one person and wounded two others.

This information was conveyed in an official statement which reads:

"Two enemy aeroplanes have visited the eastern coast. One flew over Bari and the other over Brindisi and dropped bombs. At Bari a boy 15 years old was killed and at Brindisi two persons were wounded."

Regarding military operation the statement says:

"The advance of our troops beyond the Tyrol-Trentino frontier continues and we have occupied the important height of Zugna, about four miles north of Ala, which dominates Rovereto. Upon this height the Austrians some time ago ordered a fortress built.

"Our vigorous artillery action upon the plateau being followed up, the fire of the Austrian forts at Belvidere diminished in intensity and our infantry is solidly established upon the position.

"Our front advancing in Val Sugana has arrived within five miles of Borgoesis supported strongly on two slopes of the valley. The mountain of Belvidere which dominates Fiera di Primieri in the Cismon valley in also in our hands.

"A battalion and a half of Austrians with machine guns attacked our Alpine troops in a defile of Monte Groce on the Carina frontier May 30. The Alpine troops repulsed five spirited attacks delivered one after the other, after which they took the offensive in a violent rain and thick fog putting their assailants to flight. Our losses were light.

"The rain continues on the Friuli frontier and the water courses are swollen, but our troops advance in serene confidence to overcome their difficulty."

TRENT MENACED BY ITALIANS.

Verona, Italy, June 1.—(Via Paris.)—Rain and fog are preventing rapid development of Italian operations against the Austrian positions in the Adige valley.

Long range Italian cannon now are being transported towards the points to be occupied, one of which is within seven miles of Rovereto. The whole high plateau of Lavarone is in Italian hands.

Trent is being threatened from behind along the Fiomme valley. The Austrian authorities evidently realize the danger to Trent, and they have ordered removal of all persons and institutions considered "useless." Included in this category are judges and law courts, which are being transferred to Mezolombardo, ten miles north.

ARCHDUKE EUGENE IN COMMAND.

Brescia, Italy, June 1.—(Via Paris.)—It is believed here that Archduke Eugene has assumed personal command of the Austrian forces defending Trent. The archduke was in command of the Austrian army that advanced against Serbia, then was given command of all the troops in the south. He is thoroughly familiar with the Alpine country.

LONDON IS RAIDED BY THE ZEPPELINS

Ninety Bombs Dropped. Four Persons Killed and Several Injured — Several Fires Were Caused.

London, June 1.—Zeppelin airships, long expected, reached London last night, but the several million inhabitants of the metropolis slept peacefully through the raid and all they knew this morning were the brief facts in the admiralty announcement.

The ordinary life and business of London is being carried on as usual, except that one sees small groups discussing with intense curiosity a crop of wild rumors.

Ninety bombs were dropped in the raid on London by Zeppelins.

Four persons were killed and a few were injured.

No public building was damaged.

The official statement reads:

"In amplification of the information which appeared in this morning's newspapers, the following particulars of last night's Zeppelin raid in the metropolitan area are now available for publication:

"Late last night about ninety bombs, mostly of an incendiary character, were dropped from hostile aircraft in various localities not far distant from each other. A number of fires, of which only three were large enough to require the services of fire engines, broke out. All of them were promptly and effectively dealt with, and only one of them required a strict call. The fires were all caused by the incendiary bombs referred to.

"No public building was injured, but a number of private premises were damaged by fire or water.

"The number of casualties is small, so far as has at present been ascertained. One infant, one boy, one man and one woman were killed and another woman was so seriously injured that her life is despaired of. A few other private citizens were seriously injured, but the precise number has not yet been ascertained.

"Adequate police arrangements, including the calling out of special constables, enabled the situation to be kept thoroughly in hand at all times."

ANTI-GERMAN RIOTS FOLLOW THE RAID.

London, June 1.—The Zeppelin raid on the metropolitan area last night has brought a recrudescence of anti-German demonstrations.

Crowds today attacked German shops and special constables had to be called out.

The rioters pulled down the barricades from shops which had been boarded up since the previous disorders and what furniture and goods remained were looted.

ANTI-FRATERNITY LAW DECLARED TO BE VALID

U. S. Supreme Court Upholds Mississippi Statute Against College Societies.

Washington, June 1.—The constitutionality of the Mississippi anti-fraternity law was upheld by the supreme court today in a unanimous decision. The decision was made in the case of J. P. Waugh, who sought admission to the University of Mississippi.

Waugh was a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity at Millsaps college, Miss. In 1912 he applied for admission to the law school of the University of Mississippi, but was denied admittance because he refused to sign an "anti-fraternity pledge" not to aid the organization or perpetuation of any fraternity while a member of the university. He filed a suit to compel the university authorities to admit him, contending that the anti-fraternity law enacted by the state of Mississippi in 1912 was unconstitutional.

One of the grounds on which the law was attacked originally was that it barred Greek letter fraternities, in themselves harmless institutions, from the state university. This point was not urged before the supreme court. The law was attacked on the ground that it worked discriminations as to honors, diplomas and distinctions as between students in the university at the time the law was passed and those fraternity members who later became students at the university.

TURKS SUFFERING APPALLING LOSSES AT DARDANELLES

Over 40,000 Moslems Have Been Killed or Wounded Since the Allies Landed on the Gallipoli Peninsula.

London, June 1.—A prisoner captured a fortnight ago in the Dardanelles says that the Turkish losses in the defense of their positions on the Gallipoli pennsula were, at that time, over 40,000 men.

This information was given out in an official statement in London today. It reads:

"Regarding the operations in the Dardanelles, Turkish prisoners recently arrived in Egypt say that the Ottoman losses in the fighting on the Gallipoli peninsula have been terribly heavy. The Twentieth regiment was almost annihilated, its colonel alone of all the officers escaping death or capture. Almost equally severe were the losses borne by the Fifteenth and Fifty-sixth regiments.

Loss in Officers Heavy.

"The loss in officers generally has been very heavy, and the gaps are being filled by naval officers and cadets from the military school. Men from every military class, Nizam Redif, and Mustafiz, are now found in the same unit.

"The attacks on the Krithia position early in May were most costly operations for the Turks. Ordered by General Liman von Sanders to attack with empty magazines, with the bayonet only, and by night, they assaulted our columns repeatedly. They were caught by the searchlights of the allies in close formation and terribly punished at point blank ranges by machine guns and rifle fire. Only 120 men could be collected out of a regiment originally 3,000 men strong.

"The mountain guns of the allies on more than one occasion caught the Turks as they were assembling at night for an attack, and assisted by searchlights they were kept for some minutes at a time under heavy rifle and shrapnel fire, which inflicted serious losses.

40,000 Killed and Wounded.

"'The landing,' said an Arab officer who was among the prisoners, 'was costly and difficult, but it was boldly carried out, and when our troops were once established on the peninsula it was our turn to suffer the heavier losses in a series of desperate and unavailing counter attacks. I was made prisoner a fortnight ago. We then had lost at least 40,000 men in killed and wounded.'

"It is further declared by prisoners that two Turkish battalions attacked each other by night near Gaba Tepe, losing heavily, and ultimately stampeding in spite of the efforts of their officers to rally them.

"Prisoners say that the firing of the British machine guns has been particularly well directed and violent, and that the naval guns have at times been most effective. Men who were in the trenches near the points where the heaviest shells burst were frequently so dazed and shaken by the explosions as to be paralyzed. The prisoners in some cases frankly admit that they do not in the least know why Enver Pasha and Talaat Bey went to war, while others curse the Germans heartily."

GAINS MADE BY THE ALLIES.

Paris, June 1.—The following official report on operations in the Dardanelles was given out here today:

"The fighting has resolved itself for several days past to engagements over a limited area. These have taken place almost daily, and they all have come to an end with gains for the allied troops.

"On the western slope of the ravine of Kereves Dere a detachment of volunteers belonging to a colonial regiment captured by assault on Friday evening a small fort which the enemy had built at the left end of his line, and which dominated our trenches. Our men went forward with such speed that the defenders of this fort, taken by surprise, fled without making any resistance. Two counter attacks delivered by the Turks in large numbers, the purpose of which was to recapture the fort in question, were repulsed by us, and the enemy suffered heavy losses.

"British troops also won a brilliant success in repulsing a violent assault near Gaba Tepe."

SUBMARINE SCARES CONSTANTINOPLE.

Athens, June 1.—(Via London.)—Latest advices reaching here from Constantinople say the battle cruiser Sultan Selim, formerly the Goeben, virtually has been dismantled. Recent developments at the Dardanelles are described as having cast a gloom over the Turkish capital, where a strong current of opinion is in favor of opening the straits and negotiating for peace.

During the recent British submarine raid in the Sea of Marmora and off Constantinople, there was a condition of panic in the city. The people shouted that the Russians were coming, and vessels hastily were withdrawn to the far end of the Golden Horn. Troops on board transports were disembarked and some guns were fired at the submarine.

Italians and Greeks continue to arrive at Deadagatch by rail. They report that Constantinople was sobered by this raid. One of the results was the dispatch of all the troops available to the Dardanelles.

HUNDREDS OF GERMANS RUSHED TO SURRENDER

"Eyewitness" Describes Strange Scene When the French Took St. Nazaire.

Paris, June 1.—The official eyewitness today gives supplementary details of the capture by French forces of the town of Ablain-St. Nazaire, to the northwest of Arras.

"French troops," the writer says, "on May 12 occupied most of the position and on May 28 and 29 succeeded in completing its capture. In the first attack we occupied many houses and important vantage points, but the Germans clung tenaciously to the church and cemetery. It was through the center of the village and in and around the cemetery, therefore, that the hottest fighting took place.

"On May 28 the same division which had distinguished itself by the capture of Carency, taking 2,700 prisoners in four days, began this attack.

"Before the attack was begun a heavy fire was directed on the ground behind the cemetery, thus effectively preventing the enemy from advancing any reinforcements. Bravely charging over the broken ground our troops were not long in attaining their objective, dispersing the Germans before them and quickly attaining the low rise on which the cemetery is situated. Other soldiers executed a flank movement and attacked and routed the Germans.

"The position was being quickly organized when a strange apparition appeared. It was a thick column of the enemy running toward us. We believed at first that it was a counter attack and we prepared to resist it. But the men were all unarmed and with hands raised above their heads they were giving themselves up, racing at full speed across the cemetery in fear of their own guns, whose fire was more deadly than that of the enemy. Four hundred Germans, including seven officers, arrived breathless in our trenches. The whole action lasted but fifteen minutes. During the night and the following morning the whole village was captured from the several hundred soldiers holding the position."

Plan to Bar Kinsman Of Atlanta Teachers From Education Board

Councilman Claude L. Ashley announced Tuesday that he would submit at the next meeting of general council an ordinance barring from the position of teacher in the Atlanta public school system any kinsman or member of the immediate family of a member of the board of education. The ordinance will also provide that no one may serve as a member of the board of education who has a member of his family teaching in the school system.

An ordinance by Alderman J. R. Seawright, introduced at the last session of general council, was approved by the ordinance committee Tuesday and will be sent to general council with the recommendation that it be passed. The ordinance in question provides that no one shall become a member of the board of education who is or has been in the past connected in any way with a book concern, and any member of the present board shall automatically vacate his office should he become connected with such an institution in the future.

Councilman Ashley sought to amend the ordinance so as to include his contention that no kinsman of the board should serve as a teacher in the system, but members of the committee said they would support the measure if introduced independently in general council. He stated he would take that course.

Another ordinance introduced by Alderman Seawright in general council and which provides that no calf weighing less than sixty pounds shall be slaughtered here, was also approved by the ordinance committee. He announced that this ordinance, like the other, was to make the city and state laws the same.

Playing of Miss Pattillo Is Given High Praise By Baltimore Critics

Miss Elizabeth Chase Pattillo, daughter of Mrs. Maud Simmons Pattillo, of Atlanta, and granddaughter of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Chase Pattillo, whose name she bears, has won the highest honors yet given to a piano pupil of the Peabody Conservatory of Music in Baltimore. Miss Pattillo has been entirely blind since her birth. She was only 10 months old when she demonstrated her love for music, and her mother seeing that through that talent the child's joy in life could lie, has carefully directed her musical education, which began in Atlanta. According to The Baltimore Sun last year she led a class of thirty-one, making the highest average, and again this year, when she stood her final examination for her diploma in piano, taking her examinations, just as any pupil, without any concessions on account of her blindness.

She is the very first blind student ever holding a Peabody diploma in piano, and making the highest general average ever made in the history of the Peabody for a piano diploma, and the very first blind student holding a diploma in piano in the United States.

A Criticism.

Commenting on her piano recital, the musical critic in The Sun writes:

Her playing, as a whole, is marked by a tender sweetness, a graceful charm, rather than any particular forcefulness. She has a beautiful touch, her passage work is velvety and alluring and her work is marked by a good deal of variety, for she seems to have a special instinct that enables her to give real interpretations to the things that she plays.

This was especially noticeable in the latter half of the recital, when the numbers given were all of the modern school, lovely examples of the rarely played compositions of Albeniz, the Spanish writer who just recently has been attracting so much attention; of Maurice Ravel, with their atmospheric coloring, of George F. Boyle, who is by no means the least interesting of the writers of the moment.

These works of Miss Pattillo played "con amore," for she was so entirely in sympathy with their mystic suggestion. They have a spiritual quality that seemed to appeal in some curious way to some special sense that the player possesses, so that her work in these pieces was especially beautiful.

She gave, too, a fine rendition of the Chopin "Barcarolle," and her reading of the second Brahms' "Intermezzo" was also interesting, more satisfying than that of the first, which was a little lacking in unity. She played the Chopin "Nocturne," the rarely heard Op. 55, No. 1, with an extremely nice sentiment, and Bach "Fugue," the one in A minor, Liszt transcription, was remarkably suave.

The principal classic number was the Beethoven Sonata in A flat, Op. 110. It is a very beautiful sonata and Miss Pattillo played it in a very agreeable manner, with a certain amount of color, but always with that tender sweetness that is in some respects the most marked characteristic of her work. She made her deepest impression on her audience, however, in the splendid "Jeux d'Eaux," by Ravel, which she gave with real brilliance.

Miss Pattillo Talks.

Interviewed about her achievement, Miss Pattillo is quoted:

"I was only about 10 months old when my musical tendency made itself known. I had a little toy piano, on which I first produced music. I used to sit before it and hum little tunes to myself and finally I began picking them out on the little wooden keys. The first tune I ever played was that one in Mother Goose, 'Georgie-porgie,' and I soon was able to pick out others.

"When my mother and relatives found out what I was doing they asked me about studying music, and of course I was wild to do it. But I had to wait some time before I could really begin to study. When I was still a little baby one of my aunts used to take me on her lap while she played the piano, and that's the way they used to get me to sleep.

"I was eight years old when I took my first lesson from Mrs. J. Louis Browne, of Atlanta.

"I came up to Baltimore and for several months studied at the Maryland Institute for the Blind. Four years ago I started my work at the Peabody."

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS GRADUATE TONIGHT ATLANTA THEATER

Sixty-five boys will graduate from the Boys' High school tonight at the Atlanta theater. The Boys' High school is closing the most successful year in the history of the institution. The efficiency of the school has been greatly increased during the last few years.

The enrollment this year has been 473. Next year it will be much larger. A few years ago the ratio of the boys in the Boys' High school to the girls of the Girls' High school was two to five. At present the ratio of the boys in the two boys' schools to the girls is eight to nine.

Graduates of the Boys' High school are prepared to enter Harvard, Princeton, Yale and all of the southern colleges. For their convenience the regular college entrance examinations are held at the school June 14-19. Students are thoroughly prepared in three years to enter the Georgia School of Technology. Many of the class leaders at the Georgia Tech are B. H. S. boys. Seventy per cent of the graduates of the literary department will attend college next year.

MRS. LONGSTREET'S HOME IS SOLD BY THE SHERIFF

Gainesville, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—At sheriff's sale today, the home of Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, on Green street in the city of Gainesville, was sold to Charles Newton for $5,950.

An effort was made to stop the sale on an order passed by a referee in bankruptcy in the state of New Jersey, but the right of the referee to stop the sale was questioned and the property sold under order of the judge of the superior court of Hall county.

SAVANNAH JITNEY CASE TO GO TO COMMISSION

Savannah, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—In the enforcement of regulations governing the operations of jitney buses, the city of Savannah and the Savannah Electric company will, in all probability, go before the railroad comission and at the same time seek to have a bill passed by the general assembly which will give the city the authority necessary to regulate this new mode of travel.

QUITMAN PAGEANT "MOVIE" TO SHOW IN GEORGIA CITIES

The motion picture film taken of the Animal Industry convention pageant at Quitman, Ga., May 25, which was headed by the "Seeing Georgia" tourists of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, has been completed and a private exhibition of the film will be given on Friday morning at 9:45 o'clock at the Strand theater, to which will be invited Governor John M. Slaton and a number of other prominent people and newspaper men.

After this private run the film, which is 1,500 feet, will be run at one of the Atlanta motion picture houses for the general public.

The film was made by the Scenic Film company, of Atlanta, being made under unusually good conditions. It is perfect in every particular. Mr. Walker, the operator who made the film at Quitman, previously associated with the Essanay Film company, of New York, states that he has never made a better motion film.

It requires about forty minutes to run the film. Already applications for the film have been made to the Brooks County Industrial club by the cities of Thomasville, Moultrie, Bainbridge, Albany and Waycross. It is likely the picture will be shown in every prominent Georgia city.

BIBB COUNTY GIVES $100,000 FOR SCHOOLS

Macon, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—The Bibb county commissioners this morning made a special appropriation to the board of education of this county amounting to $100,000, to be used in paying off the balance of the indebtedness on the new Lanier High school building, erected last year at a cost of $115,000, and for the building of a new grammar school building in the Vineville district to replace the present frame structure there. The cost of the Vineville school will be about $60,000.

The commissioners expect to make a special tax levy for a period of three years, raising $33,333.33 a year to cover the special appropriation. Authority to do this was given three years ago by the legislature, and it was by that means that $100,000 was raised with which to build the new high school building.

The commissioners also decided on an appropriation of $125,000 today to pay the expense of operating the schools for the coming year.

Augusta, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—The annual graduation exercises of the medical department of the University of Georgia took place at the Grand opera house in Augusta tonight. Twelve received diplomas, and tomorrow will "go up against" the state board. Dr. L. F. Barker, of Baltimore, delivered the address to the graduates. ### BIBB COUNTY GIVES $100,000 FOR SCHOOLS

Macon, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—The Bibb county commissioners this morning made a special appropriation to the board of education of this county amounting to $100,000, to be used in paying off the balance of the indebtedness on the new Lanier High school building, erected last year at a cost of $115,000, and for the building of a new grammar school building in the Vineville district to replace the present frame structure there. The cost of the Vineville school will be about $60,000.

The commissioners expect to make a special tax levy for a period of three years, raising $33,333.33 a year to cover the special appropriation. Authority to do this was given three years ago by the legislature, and it was by that means that $100,000 was raised with which to build the new high school building.

The commissioners also decided on an appropriation of $125,000 today to pay the expense of operating the schools for the coming year.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL GRADUATES 70 TONIGHT

Annual Literary Address Will Be Delivered by Rev. Ashby Jones.

Athens, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—Concluding its twenty-first year of service for the state in training teachers for the common schools and the public school systems, and having this year teacher-students from all but half a dozen counties in the state on the roll of matriculates, the State Normal school will present seventy graduates to the state Wednesday evening.

The commencement has been of unusual interest to date and the various recitals and entertainments have marked a high standard of work. The annual baccalaureate sermon was preached by Rev. R. A. Webb, D. D., of Louisville, Ky., on the subject, "The Bible Not a Book of Fables." The evening service Sunday was a most unusual one, the last vespers of the Young Women's Christian association, the address being made by Dr. Webb. The presentation of 107 Bibles (offered by the Helen Gould foundation) to 107 young women in good standing in the association who had to a chosen judge repeated five hundred prescribed verses from the Bible—each from memory. Three years ago three young ladies received these Bibles; last year sixty-seven won them; this year the State Normal ranks at the lead of the United States with two Virginia colleges.

Monday morning the annual senior exercises were held, interesting and original all through. Tuesday evening the annual concert of the music department students was a treat. Tuesday morning the alumni-ae association meeting was held and an informal reception added to the event. Tuesday evening under the direction of the oratory department "The Merchant of Venice" was presented from the outdoor theater formed by the broad porches for Winnie Davis Memorial hall, which lend themselves in charming effect to such a presentation.

Rev. M. Ashby Jones, D. D., of Augusta, delivers the annual literary address Wednesday morning and on Wednesday evening the graduation exercises occur. The following seventy will receive diplomas:

Committee to Meet To Work Out Plans For Big High School

The first meeting of the special committees from general council and the board of education to work out details for a consolidated high school will be held Thursday afternoon. The committee representing general council is composed of Councilman Claude L. Ashley, chairman; Alderman Jesse W. Armistead and J. Lee Barnes. Representing the board of edubation are James L. Key, chairman; Dan W. Green and Aldine Chambers.

Councilman Ashley took the first step toward consolidating the four city high schools, where he introduced in general council a resolution providing for a special committee to work in conjunction with a similar committee from the board of education.

He contends that the operation of one big central school, on the academy plan would mean less maintenance expense than is attached in the aggregate to the four schools as now operated; that it would be an opening toward the establishment of a number of important new departments not practical under the present regime and that it would in a measure solve the problem of housing the constantly increasing number of pupils in the high school department.

"If we could just get the matter before the people, I am sure the large majority would favor the plan," said Mr. Ashley Tuesday. "I have had hundreds of school patrons in all parts of the city commend the idea and offer their aid in carrying it to success. Several members of the board of education have also expressed themselves as favoring the plan."

New York, June 1.—The will of Jacob Ruppert, millionaire brewer, who died May 25, filed for probate today disposes of an estate valued at $20,000,000, divided among his widow and four children.

Let's Get Down to "Brass Tacks"

Let's be honest with one another.

Some people believe one thing—some another.

In every momentous—every interesting—question that comes before the people, there are many different opinions.

It was "Puddin' Head Wilson," we believe, who said that it "was differences of opinions that made horse-racing good."

It is contended—and perhaps rightly so—that there is always two sides to every question.

The only exception to this rule—at least what ought to be an exception—is the question of—

Patronizing home industry.

If you are loyal to your home community—if you believe that you ought to help those who help you—if you want to see conditions improved at home, see more men and women put to work—if you want to "see the color" of your money again after you have handed it over for the many necessities of life—in other words, if you are a home-loving, patriotic, stand-by-your-community sort of a consumer—

Then you will call for goods made here at home.

When you do this, you not only get as good—or better—articles than goods bearing an imported label, but you show your pride in and loyalty to the manufacturers here at home who are aiding in a large way to make our southland commercially strong.

If you agree with us that there is but one side to the patronize-home-industry question—and that side is to PATRONIZE it—then show your faith by your works.

The manufacturers below are home people. They employ home people. Their goods are sold by your retailer.

Call for the brands mentioned—

And be a good, loyal, dyed-in-the-wool, home-loving, home-consuming, patriotic sort of a consumer, who delights in the prosperity of his own community first, last and all the time.

Assistant Cashier McQueen, of Lyons, Pleads Guilty.

Savannah, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—Henry McQueen, former assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Lyons, indicted on a charge of defrauding the institution out of $1,000 by making false entries, entered a plea of guilty in the United States court after having previously pleaded not guilty.

PERSONS DECLINES JUDGESHIP OF FLINT

Number of Prominent Georgians Mentioned as Possible Successors to Judge Daniel.

The appointment to the judgeship of the Flint circuit, to succeed the late Judge Robert T. Daniel, of Griffin, was on Tuesday offered by Governor Slaton, it is reported, to Senator-elect G. Ogden Persons, of Forsyth, representing the twenty-second district, but was declined by him, as he is assured of election to the presidency of the next senate.

This leaves the field still open. There are a number of active candidates for the place. A delegation called Tuesday upon Governor Slaton in the interest of W. E. H. Searcy, Jr., of Griffin.

Others mentioned as candidates are O. H. P. Bloodworth, of Forsyth; John F. Redding, of Barnesville; Judge Sam Rutherford, of Forsyth; Judge J. F. DuPress, of Zebulon, and Bartow E. Willingham, of Forsyth.

Also it is currently reported that Judge J. J. Flynt, of Griffin, ex-president of the senate and well known to be a warm supporter of Governor Slaton in his past political career, will have his name presented to the governor for the vacant judgeship, in which event Judge Flyn't friends are confident of his success, believing that his past relations with the governor are such as to assure his appointment. Judge Flynt has not as yet announced his candidacy, but it is expected that he will do so today or tomorrow.

4TH DISTRICT SCHOOL DELIVERS SHEEPSKINS

Carrollton, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—Notwithstanding the rainy weather, the largest crowd in the history of the Fourth District Agricultural and Mechanical school attended the commencement exercises. The literary address was delivered by D. C. O. Jones, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church of Atlanta, and chairman of the North Georgia conference. He was introduced by Congressman W. C. Adamson. Following the address a basket dinner and an old-time Georgia barbecue were served.

Chancellor David C. Barrow, of the University of Georgia, closed the exercises at night with an address to the graduating class. The class follows: Misses Dira Lou Foster, Laura Turner, Ethel Nixon, Ruth Crain, Jessie Henry, and Ridley Whitaker, Tom Rutland, Fred Hallum, Bernard Fleming, Julian Beall, David King, Howard Ware, Abner Nixon and Arthur Hyde.

The Carrollton High school closed its graduating exercises Tuesday night. Dr. W. W. Fitts, president of the school board, delivered diplomas to the following graduates: Misses Vivian Brodnax, Mildred Smith, Edith Stone, Corinne Hamrick, Dora Blandenburg, Nell Aycock, Reba Garett, Ione Haile, Louise Steed, Dorothy Bledsoe, Leila Baskin, Lurlie Williams, Gladys Jones, Norvelle Hamrick and Will Shaw.

BANK IN FITZGERALD CLOSES TEMPORARILY

Fitzgerald, Ga., Jpne 1.—(Special.)—The Third National bank closed here today for the purpose of reorganizing its affairs. It will open shortly, officials declare, with strong and financial backing. The depositors and shareholders are amply protected. The bank carried over a large line of farm loans, and to properly reorganize, it was thought best to suspend operations temporarily.

THREE WOMEN CLAIM GANDY AS HUSBAND; IN JAIL AT TIFTON

Tifton, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—Three alleged wives now lay claim to J. T. Gandy, confined in Tift county jail under a charge of bigamy. Wife No. 3 resides in Tift county, and was the cause of Gandy being brought into the hands of the law.

Several months ago Gandy came to this county to work and married Miss Sallie Willis, the young daughter of a well-known Tift county family. The girl's mother learned that Gandy had a wife in Florida, a Miss Holloway, and swore out a warrant for him and he was arrested. The warrant was withdrawn when Gandy's lawyer stated that he had been advised by Florida officials that Gandy had been divorced. It was later learned that Gandy had not been divorced in Florida, and another warrant was sworn out for him, he being placed in jail in default of $750 bond.

Yesterday the brother of Gandy's alleged second wife came to Tifton to look Gandy over. He identified him, and says that if the people here don't push the case he will. The woman who claims to be Gandy's second wife was a widow, Mrs. Michigan O. Glover. They were married at Monticello, Fla., September 13, 1909, she says, and he lived with her until July 9, 1912, when he left and did not return until June 20, 1914. She states he begged her to take him back, and she did, but he only remained a short time, coming to Tift county, where he married the third time. After he married here, it is claimed, he went back to Florida and spent a few days with his second wife. She has two children, both girls, born in 1910 and 1911, and is expecting to be a mother soon again.

SEES BIG CUT IN COTTON.

Fields Are Full of Grass, Says Farmers' Union Head.

Douglas, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—Returning to the headquarters of the Georgia State Farmers' Union from an extensive tour of Georgia, President J. J. Brown has sounded a strong warning to the farmers.

President Brown states that he had never found the cotton fields of Georgia so full of grass as they are at this time. "There are thousands of acres," he said, "that were planted in cotton that are now being plowed up and replanted in peas, sorghum cane and other things, because the grass has gotten ahead of the farmers and they realize that there would not be any yield of the staple to speak of."

Less Fertilizer Used.

As to the extent the crop in this state would be cut this year, Mr. Brown said:

"In the first place, the acreage was cut, I believe, at least 30 per cent; about 45 per cent less fertilizer was used than last year. The crops on the average throughout the state are in the worst condition they have ever been at this time of year, and for these reasons I believe that the crop will yield at least 40 per cent less than did the 1914 crop."

These conditions of bad fields and poor stands were worse in middle and south Georgia, said Mr. Brown. He believed that the grassy condition would in itself reduce the yield 25 per cent this year over last.

"The farmers generally are diversifying more extensively than usual," he said, "and while corn has been damaged to some extent by the rains and consequent grass, it will be a fairly good yield, especially in north Georgia.

"I believe that unless there is a system of rural credits perfected for the farmers at once the fall of 1915 will find general financial conditions worse than they have been in many years," said Mr. Brown.

Continuing, he said that in order to meet the situation and handle it with the least possible injury to all, it would be absolutely necessary that the farmers organize in every militia district of the state.

The officials of the State Farmers' union are anxious to enroll 50,000 to 75,000 members before the marketing of the crop.

TRAINING FOR NEGROES STRESSED BY STINSON

Gainesville, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—Rev. Richard D. Stinson, principal of the Atlanta Normal and Industrial institute, a school for practically training the negro youth, preached the annual sermon for the Gainesville High school, of which Professor C. E. Williams is head. He also spoke at a platform meeting in the evening and preached at St. Paul's M. E. church at night. He stressed the importance of the church, the school, the home and hard work on upbuilding the negro race. "Our greatest need as a people," he said, "is to be skilled in that thing we are best fitted to do and in establishing a home in which the right conception of life may be instilled and in practicing patience and hard work with our hands."

METCALF TOT KILLED BY WOMAN MOTORIST

Thomasville, Ga., June 1.—(Special.) An automobile accident is reported from Metcalf, in this county, in which little 4-year-old Jack Rudd, son of R. R. Rudd, lost his life there yesterday.

Miss Gladys Horne, in her automobile, was going to the postoffice when the little boy ran across the street in front of the car, and before she could stop the front wheels had gone across his body. In a few minutes the little fellow was dead. Blame is not attached to Miss Horne.

MOTHER ASKS FOR HELP TO FIND MISSING SON

Ashburn, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mollie Handley, of Ashburn, Route 2, is greatly distressed over the disappearance of her 17-year-old son, Olin, who left home on May 9 and has not since been heard of by any of his relatives. The mother is unable to assign any cause whatever as to why her son went away, and every effort to secure information as to his whereabouts has failed.

The following is a note Mrs. Handley hands out for publication: "To the people of Georgia: Mollie Handley has a son who left home May 9 and can't find him anywhere. He is 17 years old and has a gold tip on left eye tooth. Any information as to where he is will be greatly appreciated."

COLUMBUS COMPANY TO ERECT TERMINALS

Columbus, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—River terminals are to be established at this point by the Georgia Products company, of which Johnson J. Williams is president. Coal shutes, grain elevators and elevated railroad tracks to facilitate loading directly from the car to the Chattahoochee river steamboats will be installed at once. This will reduce the shipper's expense, as the transfer charge from steamboat to railroads will be practically eliminated. The service, which instituted by a private corportation, will be open to the general public. The terminals are to be in operation by September 1.

AUGUSTA JITNEY MAN WINNER IN TEST CASE

Augusta, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—The jitney bus statute has not yet been fixed in Augusta. W. A. Baxley was before the recorder yesterday on the charge of having carried passengers for ten cents apiece, while operating under a hack license. The city contended that he should charge the maximum fare of 25 cents. The recorder decided that while he could not charge more than 25 cents, the maximum sum named in the city ordinance, he violated no law by making any lesser charge.

Herding place for big guys

Walk down the main avenue of Universal City any day and you're liable to bump into Gen. Grant, Phil. Sheridan or Henry Clay. You're apt to see Christopher Columbus or Rip Van Winkle sitting on a doorstep smoking a Condax cigarette. It wouldn't be surprising if you met Sitting Bull, D'Artagnan Mephistopheles or David Harum, and you'd grin your head off if you lit onto Queen Mary, Henry IV, Disraeli and Captain Kidd playing penochle on the grass. It wouldn't be queer if you met Abraham Lincoln strolling around, or busted right into Gen. Robert E. Lee or Sic Semper McGinnis. It's a funny place—a crazy place—a wild, wooly and winsome place.

There's a steel stage in Universal City where sixteen full companies can work at once. There's a rocking stage and Nature's stage—the mountains, gullies, canyons, precipices, gorges, forests, meadows, prairies and jungles. There are nearly three thousand people in Universal City, all actors, actresses or stage folks. It's only a little trolley ride from Los Angeles. You can go to Los Angeles on the Santa Fe direct. ## STARVING MEXICO.

Governor Ferguson, of Texas, has well stated what should be and will be the position of the United States with reference to affording relief to that pacific portion of the Mexican population which has been brought to the verge of starvation through the havoc wrought by the factional revolutionary elements which have no regard for private property, private rights or even for national welfare and development.

Revolutionary turmoil, kept alive by the thoroughly selfish aspirations of a few leaders, have made Mexico a waste in which women and children by the thousands are the innocent and helpless victims. It is the terribly deplorable condition of these that touches the heart of humanity; but what assurance has humanity that the food and clothing it may furnish for relief will reach those for whom it is intended?

Texas is ready to join immediately in the relief movement, but, as Governor Ferguson says, first demands definite assurance of the fact that supplies contributed for relief purposes shall go directly to those for whom they are intended, and not to support the buccaneers and robbers who compose the warring bands that have driven Mexico to the point of beggary.

Such, in substance, was Governor Ferguson's reply to the American Red Cross association when it called upon him to issue a proclamation to Texans, appealing to them in the name of humanity to help the women and children in the starving, war-ridden republic. Stripped of the language of diplomacy, Governor Ferguson has clearly stated the attitude of official Washington; it is undoubtedly the view of President Wilson himself, founded both upon the necessities of the situation which are known to exist, and the reports that supplies sent to Mexico for the relief of starving noncombatants have been seized and appropriated by the Carranzistas, Villaistas, Zapatistas or some other equally notorious band of buccaneers who know no virtue and no aim but that of self-aggrandizement.

This position of insistence that American relief supplies shall be inviolate, and shall directly serve the purpose intended, is one in which the American public will unhesitatingly uphold the president to whatever extent it is necessary to go to enforce compliance. If we must cross the border in the name of humanity, there will be no hesitation, no shirking our duty. We did it when it was necessary to wrest Spain's tightening hand from the gasping throat of Cuba; and the Mexico of today, through internal strife, is in no better plight.

There is no desire on the part of the people of the United States to become embroiled in Mexico's political struggle. As deplorable as is the devastation and waste and the disregard of every alien and human right, we have very properly kept out of it. Our mission is not one of policing our neighbors except to the extent that our own direct interests are involved.

But when it comes to the call of humanity, regardless of the responsibility for conditions, the people of the United States are going to respond. They have always done so, and they always will. Nor will they permit the thievery of what they send for the relief of the suffering. The piratical hordes which are overrunning Mexico may as well realize this before they get real trouble on their hands.

If needs be, we will send our alms to suffering Mexico on the point of our guns!

THE AMERICAN SPIRIT.

Outside of any definite result that may be attained in financial or commercial direction by the Pan-American conference, whose sessions have just been concluded in Washington, there will be unusual interest in that phase of it indicative of the spirit in which the delegates of the Latin-American republics met our invitation and advances in bringing them together and in offering cooperation in the settlement of their perplexing problems.

Sensational news hunters have spread stories calculated to inculcate the belief that there exists towards us on the part of our neighbors to the south a feeling of jealousy and ill will, the effect of which is to repel any effort we may make toward closer commercial, financial or broad international friendship.

It is gratifying that there was no tinge of this spirit in the conference just held in Washington in which practically every one of the Latin-American republics was represented. On the other hand, every expression, echoing the national sentiment of the delegate, was one of friendliness and accord. Notable among these expressions was that from Dr. S. P. Triana, of the United States of Colombia, supposed to harbor deep-seated resentment against us because of Panama, who said:

> There may have been failures in the past, but let us forget them. Let the dead past bury its dead. Let the nations here represented, in solemn and formal fashion, make its manifest that none covet the territory of any other, and that the homes and territory of each shall be sacred. Let honesty and not convenience guide the policy of nations; and that is the flag of right that we should hold aloft as the flag of this continent. Then we can tell the other nations of the world that they may come to our fertile valleys, but as peaceful multitudes and not as conquerors.

This is but one of the many evidences that the conference throughout was characterized by the true American spirit. The South American republics have come to believe in the sincerity of the attitude of the United States. They are accepting our assertion that, while we stand for their safety against European aggression, we do so with no desire for conquest or other ulterior motive.

Insofar as we hold the inviolability of the Monroe doctrine, we do it in the broad American spirit of America for the Americans. The sincerity and purport of that spirit has reached to our Latin-American neighbors; they know and feel it and are our friends.

WHEN LEGISLATORS "PLAY."

Legislators, under the impression that they were chosen by the people to serve their interests and those of the state at large—that the high office of "Lawmaker to the People" is one of dignity and responsibility—have, from time to time, manifested resentment to the shafts of local and national humorists who held a different view and indulged in unseemly mirth at their expense.

And naturally so. But legislatures are meeting all the time to gladden the hearts and tip the pens of these same humorists—the more's the pity!

And notably that of Pennsylvania, where, according to the press reports, "Bedlam was let loose!" Here is a sample of it, as given in a Harrisburg dispatch to The Philadelphia Public Ledger:

> "On Monday night 'sneezing powders' were scattered throughout the house, and these, together with malodorous chemicals, made the air so bad that it was necessary to open the windows. A number of persons, among them women, were forced to leave. Speaker Ambler repeatedly called the house to order and asked that the scattering of the powders be stopped. The members threw their files of legislative bills into the air and at each other. Men who tried to speak on bills were howled down. Today conditions were even worse. When Representative Baldwin, of Delaware county, was speaking, some thirty or forty members left their seats and crowded around him, shouting and talking."

Bills relating to bullfrogs were greeted with imitations of bullfrog bass music, cat calls, etc., and a hundred other little "pleasantries" enlivened the closing hours.

The state press, more caustic than the free-hearted humorists, pronounced these proceedings "a disgrace to the state."

The people may even enjoy the sight of legislators at play—when playtime comes; it is fine to throw dignity to the winds occasionally—not to take one's self too seriously all the time—but there is a limit. It is possible to be humorous without being ridiculous, and to be merry without donning a fool's cap and performing the antics of a clown.

I.

It's no time for complainin'—to join the Grouchtown band,
When in so fine a country you're inheritin' the land;
To think you're one with freemen an' on the free heights stand—
To think that you are One in this old country!

II.

It's no time for complainin', with such a race to run—
The joy that's in the runnin' an' the goal that's to be won;
Rise when the light is breakin'!—good mornin' to the Sun,
Glad that it shines for you—in this fine country!

Getting to the end of his column, the paragrapher of The Columbia State says:

"We are writing this here thing in the French style

We have no comments to make herein;
Absolutely nothing to say;
But we gotta fill up this space,
And we are doing it.
In conclusion, let us remark that

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Precaution.

"In a certain village down south there was a physician noted for his reckless automobile driving. One day when he answered the phone a woman's voice asked him if he were going out driving that afternoon.

"'No; I hardly think I will have time this afternoon,' replied the doctor. 'But why do you ask?'

"'Well,' replied his anonymous questioner, 'I want to send my little daughter downtown for some thread if you are not.'"

Take the Way!

Time won't tarry—
Never knows delay;
Burden is to carry—
Rise, and take the way!
You'll weep in wintry weather
If you dream away the May.

Love and War.

In a prose poem on the war, which concludes as follows, Judd Mortimer Lewis sings:

"Show the world that love and laughter in a cot where roses bloom is a better thing than tears are splashing down on Europe's tomb. Keep your smile and keep your courage while the blue skies arch above; better for the world than warring, and than sorrowing, is love. Keep your soul strong with your singing, keep the world sweet with your smile; love is in the world forever; war for but a little while."

Soldier of the Sunshine.

Folger McKinsey, of The Baltimore Sun, has this marching song for the "Soldier of the Sunshine:"

"The captain of the morning
Is on the stairs of time
To lead the music makers
To fields of cheer and chime.
He lifts a stainless lily
To make himself a sword—
A soldier of the sunshine
In the battles of the Lord."

The Holland Letter

In the suit which has been brought by the Knickerbocker Trust company, of New York, against several citizens of wealth whose homes are in Boston, there is to be tested an issue which all of the trust companies of the United States will be glad to have judicially decided. The case, therefore, becomes a matter of international importance, but it is especially interesting on account of some peculiar features associated with it and also the high financial standing of those who are named as party defendants. There seems to be no disagreement about one fact. The Knickerbocker Trust company, in the last year of its administration by President Barney, under whom the institution failed in 1907—the failure bringing to a head conditions which created the panic of October of that year—sent out a circular letter inviting subscriptions to the underwriting of a certain American industry. The promotion appealed to a good many and subscriptions which seemed to promise the success of the undertaking were made. Among these were subscriptions of persons of wealth of Boston, one of whom the widow of a Boston man who left a large estate. With the collapse of the Knickerbocker Trust company these subscriptions were held in abeyance. After reorganization, the trust company called upon its subscribers to make good their pledges. A number of Boston subscribers declined to do this on the ground that they had been misled by the circulars and also, according to reports here, because the trust company was really insolvent at the time it undertook this promotion.

The question, therefore, to be decided in this case is one of fact. Did the circular letters overstate the proposition? Was it for that reason misleading, and was the trust company really insolvent at the time it tried to underwrite the proposition? Here, then, is a subject that is to be judicially determined which is of great importance to trust companies throughout the country.

These proceedings bring prominently to mind the relation of B. P. Cheney, of Boston, to them. Some weeks ago, according to published report, Mr. Cheney felt that under the conditions by which his subscription to this underwriting scheme was made he was absolved both morally and legally from paying any heed to the demand of the trust company that his subscription be made good.

Of Mr. Cheney it was said some years ago by Benjamin F. Yoakum, who had good opportunities to form a judgment, that he had observed the careers of a number of young men to whom large fortunes had been left. In a majority of cases which came within his knowledge these young men had tried manfully to meet their responsibilities, although some of them did not have the intellectual equipment which would make it possible fully to meet the responsibilities. But Mr. Yoakum believed he was justified in saying that of all the young men of this class of whom he had knowledge, none possessed greater ability, or a profounder sense of the responsibility which the handling of a great fortune put upon him than B. F. Cheney, of Boston.

A Great Inheritance.

Mr. Cheney is a son of one of the two men who out of practically nothing developed the express business of the United States. The elder Cheney was, in early manhood, a stagecoach driver in New Hampshire and frequently numbered Daniel Webster among his passengers. It has been one of the traditions that Daniel Webster suggested to the stagecoach driver that instead of carrying passengers and bundles on the stagecoach he begin to carry bundles on the railroads which at that time began to expand throughout New England. At all events, Mr. Cheney abandoned the stagecoach and began, as his own messenger and handler of bundles, the railway express business. When Mr. Cheney died he left an estate estimated at from $17,000,000 to $20,000,000, and his son, in addition to his inheritance, was designated as the trustee or manager of the estate.

Whatever success he may have had, or lack of it, if any, in the management of his great estate, has not in any way diminished the confidence and respect which all who have been brought into association with him feel for him. For this reason it is assumed that if Mr. Cheney felt that there were misrepresentation in the circular letter which asked for subscriptions to the underwriting scheme he was convinced that he was absolved legally and morally from any pledge he may have made. For his reputation was such that it was believed he would stand by any bargain he had made, even if it were a losing one, provided he were morally bound to keep it.

The issue, therefore, between the trust company and these defendants who are sued in the aggregate for about a half million dollars is this: Was the trust company circular issued in good faith or do the defendants have reason to believe that the circular letter overstated the proposition?

Vanderlip and Farrell.

At one time during the sessions of the Pan-American financial conference, President Vanderlip, of the National City bank, was quoted as having briefly set forth the kind of organization which his institution had perfected for the purpose of developing our commercial relations with the South American nations. The institution had established something like a technical school where in young men are taught Spanish and also various features associated with international banking, foreign exchange and kindred subjects. There are not so many young men at present who are eager to accept this training as Mr. Vanderlip would like to see thus employed. The plan itself is in line with suggestions made some years ago by James Stillman when he was president of the City bank. For Mr. Stillman used to speak with enthusiasm of the opportunities which South America offered to the United States, but he also qualified his statement by saying that long and somewhat severe course of training was essential if we are to command a fair share of these opportunities. Mr. Vanderlip seems inclined to think that the chief reason why more young men do not accept this opportunity for training is to be found in the fact that bright, ambitious and energetic young men for the most part realize that there are great opportunities in the United States.

The organization which President Vanderlip has perfected is similar in many respects to the remarkable and world-encompassing organization which was built up by President James A. Farrell, of the United States Steel corporation, when he was in charge of the foreign sales department. Mr. Farrell did not have much difficulty in finding young men who were anxious to submit to the kind of training which was essential if the steel company was to gain those markets of the world which it started out to gain in 1903. President Farrell's university, so to call it, is however, on broader lines than is the one which President Vanderlip has established. For the graduates of the Farrell university are placed in responsible posts in all of the great markets of the world and when they enter upon these duties they possess profound knowledge of world politics, of racial characteristics, of agriculture, industry and forms of government, great enough to qualify them to serve as teachers in any college in which a department of this kind is established.

Something Alway Sings.

"In the mud and scum of things,
There, alway, alway something sings."
—Emerson.

Why, therefore, should we these despise,
And pass them with averted eyes?
If star is brother of the sod,
Father of both of them is God,
And the divine it is that sings
Alway, in mud and scum of things.

USEFUL FUTURE IS PREDICTED FOR ATLANTA MEDICAL COLLEGE AS PART OF EMORY UNIVERSITY

The last commencement that the Atlanta Medical college, as such, will ever hold was its sixtieth annual graduating exercises, which were held at the Atlanta theater last night.

Another year, and the Atlanta Medical college will have been merged with Emory university.

It was a source of great gratification to all connected with the institution last night to hear it said that the last commencement closed the greatest year the institution has ever had. All speakers last night voiced the sentiment that the future of the institution, as a part of Emory university, promises to be the most brilliant of any such institution in the south. This, it was said, is both on account of the facilities and the opportunities which Emory university will have.

Electorate Retrograded.

In enlarging upon the latter point John Temple Graves, who delivered the principal address of the exercises, made the statement that the status of Georgia is not such as to lend intellectual and moral encouragement to the people living here, and that the electorate of the state of Georgia in the last decade has, if anything, retrograded rather than progressed.

These unsavory conditions, together with the destructive influence of the European war upon civilization, he said, offer for Emory university and also Oglethorpe university, in this, their beginning, an opportunity which amounts to a supreme duty.

After a brief history of and tribute to the passing institution and a promise of the great future which lies in its new born future, Colonel Graves went into the specific and rather startling details of the conditions which he believes offer such tremendous opportunities.

He prefaced his remarks by a picture of the inroads of commercialism and materialism upon intellectual life in other parts of the country, especially as exemplified in some of the so-called leaders of the life of the nation. He illustrated by the example of two congressmen who spoke at the celebration, last May 20, of the signing of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence, at Charlotte, N. C., when, he said, the congressmen in their remarks held up for the younger generation no ideals of love of country, patriotism or any of those associated higher ideals, but dwelt unceasingly upon materialism.

Has Not Made Progress.

"I am no politician," he then said, "and have therefore nothing to fear from whatever I may say.

"I may say that the electorate of Georgia, as I see it, has not improved in the last ten years. If anything, it has retrograded."

He illustrated by recent elections and by the defeats of Hoke Smith and Joe Brown for governor, which he laid to "little inconsequential whims of the people rather than on account of any deep-lying principle."

"The status of Georgia," he continued, "is not such as to lend encouragement to the intellectual and moral life of the people living in this state. Georgia is in need of some mighty influence to re-enforce her intellectual and moral development, her faith and character and belief as never before. It is for Emory and Oglethorpe universities to do this.

"The influence of the European war upon civilization will never die. Now is the time for the United States to build herself up and antidote this wounded civilization. Never was there a higher or greater call for higher education in Georgia. Georgia should not restrict herself merely to state institutions, but should give generously to every denominational or religious institution so that the state's facilities may be enlarged and that her scope for doing good may be broadened."

132 Receive Diplomas.

There were in this year's graduating class 133 members. Of these, 132 last night received their diplomas. C. D. Briscoe was absent, being on his way to the canal zone, where he has received an appointment from the United States government in a hospital there. He will receive his diploma in due course of time.

Of the graduating class, fifty-two members have already secured places in thirty leading hospitals, located in all parts of the country. The graduating class included men from practically every state in the union and several foreign countries, notably Cuba, Spain and Turkey.

Bishop W. A. Candler, who pronounced the invocation, also awarded the certificates of proficiency to the five honor men of the class. These men were Hal M. Davidson, Charles Ernest Powell, William D. McWhorter, Eugene A. Bryce and LeRoy G. Parham, all of Georgia.

The report of Dr. W. S. Elkin, dean of the college, showed the splendid success of the institution in its last year and outlined the conditions under which the Atlanta Medical college will be merged with Emory university and indicated the enlarged scope of its activities under the new conditions.

The exercises closed with an address by E. W. Martin in behalf of the board of directors of the college, and a benediction by Bishop Nelson.

There was a tremendous attendance upon the exercises, standing room being at premium.

COMMISSIONER TURMAN FAVORS MOVE TO MARK BATTLEFIELDS

Chairman of the board of county commissioners, S. B. Turman, has written a letter to Hon. William Schley Howard, member of congress from this district, concerning the marking of the battlefields around Atlanta.

It will be recalled that Congressman Howard recently wrote to Chairman Turman on the correspondence that had passed between Governor Ralston, of Indiana, and Commissioner W. T. Winn with reference to the Battle of Peachtree Creek, in which Indianans are particularly interested on account of the fact that Benjamin Harrison and Walter Q. Gresham, afterwards president and secretary of state, respectively, figured conspicuously in that battle. President Harrison was made brigadier general on that battlefield and Judge Gresham received the wound which he carried through life in that fight.

Favors Marking Battlefield.

Chairman Turman writes Congressman Howard as follows:

"Hon. William Schley Howard, M. C., Kirkwood, Ga.

"Dear Mr. Howard: Your letter to hand in reference to the question of establishing 'markers' on the battlefield on Peachtree creek, and in reply, beg to say I am in sympathy with this movement and hope to see proper steps taken to preserve these battlefields, both at Peachtree creek and West Hunter and Greensferry avenue, where the battle of Ezra Church was fought; also around Grant park, and Decatur street or DeKalb avenue near Inman Park, where DeGress battery was located during the battle. I hope some plan will be evolved whereby the location of all of these battles will be properly preserved. I am willing to do anything to further the plans which may be deemed reasonable and practical.

"Very truly yours,
"S. B. TURMAN,
"County Commissioner."

ATLANTA LEADS WORLD IN ANALYSIS OF COTTON SEED PRODUCT SAMPLES

The statement that there is more copper produced in the United States than in any other part of the world, and that if America was called to war it would never exhaust its supply of the metal, and therefore be plentifully equipped with arms and ammunition, was made by Thomas C. Laws, an expert chemist, in an address before the Rotary club at its regular meeting Tuesday in the Hotel Piedmont.

The object of his speech was to impress upon the Rotarians the advantages of chemistry in the industrial world, and, during the course of his remarks he pronounced Atlanta one of the most important centers of agricultural chemistry in the states.

"In Atlanta chemistry is mainly confined to two subjects—the fertilizer factory and the oil mill," he said. "There are six laboratories in the city specializing along these lines. They employ fifteen highly educated chemists. There are eight corporation laboratories, employing twenty-one chemists. When the state laboratories are included, we have about fifty experts actively engaged in this particular line of chemical work. I believe that I am perfectly safe in making the statement that there are more samples of cotton seed products and fertilizers analyzed in Atlanta than in any other city in the world. I estimate that over 100,000 samples of these products are tested here annually, not including the state department. The express charges required to bring these samples here would amount to about $25,000 in a season.

"The southeast was the pioneer, and still holds the lead in the use of commercial fertilizers in this country. While the science is far from perfection, it has developed and is developing very rapidly. The old idea of the average farmers that the best fertilizer was that which was darkest in color and smelt to high heaven is fast giving place to a scientific knowledge of what the land needs and the composition of the fertilizer. This has been made possible through the commercial chemist. The spirit of the age and his close association with the growth of the business has instilled the commercial spirit into his work. His laboratory is now equipped so that he can handle a volume of work at a nominal cost.

"The manufacturer can afford to have his materials analyzed, figure his formulas accurately and check the work by an analysis of the mixture. By this means he only sells what he guarantees, thus reducing the manufacturing cost and the cost of the material to a minimum. This in no way reduces the value of the goods to the consumer, as he has become scientific enough, thanks to our agricultural schools, to want for his land exactly what he purchases. If any ingredient is low or high the balance is broken and the fertilizer fails to answer the purpose for which it was intended.

"The chemist in the fertilizer business is too big a subject to attempt to discuss in detail in the few minutes I have allotted. Dire consequences have been promised if I go over time.

"Above all in importance, however, is that which is of most vital interest to this section—the chemistry of agriculture. I am a strong advocate of crop diversification, but not at the expense of the cotton crop. Nature has favored us with a soil and climate which will raise more cotton to the acre and better cotton than any country in the world, and it will ever be so. Cut the acreage if you see fit, but don't cut the cotton production. In other words, raise more cotton per acre. The way the southeast is neglecting its natural opportunities is not only a commercial crime, but actual theft from the generations who are to follow us. In spite of the fact that in many sections we are still robbing our lands of the priceless treasures which the Almighty has stored in them, I cannot help from feeling that we are awakening to the knowledge that cattle raising in connection with the cotton crop is our salvation.

"The future expansion should bring a prosperity and wealth to the south unequalled by any other industry in the world. When cotton seed meal and hulls are no longer exported, but fed to cattle at home, along with the other feeds that we are so well fitted to raise, then packers will find this land the source of their supplies and not the western plains. The droppings from the cattle contain 90 per cent of the original fertilizer value of cotton seed meal that is fed to them. When this is returned to the land, not only furnishing the richest of fertilizer, but giving it back the humus from which it has been robbed, the yield of cotton will be proportionately increased, as has been frequently demonstrated. More cotton on the same acreage will bring more gold into the south. More seed will produce more oil to feed the race and leave a surplus for another profit. More meal and hulls will feed more cattle and bring a third profit. More cattle will furnish more manure for another season's crop, and this never-ending cycle of production, consumption and a surplus for profit appeals to the business man as well as the idealist and makes them exclaim in unison: 'The future of the southland is bright, indeed.'"

"A Blended Memorial Day."

Editor Constitution: Your article in yesterday's paper on "A Blended Memorial Day," by Richard G. Conover, ought to be read in each public school in the south with the object to wipe out the last vestige of hate between the north and south. I know from personal experience the danger of a child filling his heart with hate for anybody. I was 10 years of age at the close of the civil war; had three relatives killed in the war. Well do I remember the close of the war and reconstruction! It sure taught me to be a good hater.

When Horace Greeley died, I remember the papers stated his last words were: "I know that my Redeemer liveth." I thought it blasphemy for such a monster to quote Job. Now, forty years after, I look upon Mr. Greeley as one of the greatest benefactors the world has ever known.

When going to Texas up Red river about 1874 I was assigned a berth on the steamer with a "Yankee" soldier. I went to the clerk and told him I would not sleep in the room with a man who wore that uniform. I think now the United States soldier is the greatest exponent of civil liberty the world has ever known.

So to confirm this sentiment, let's make it permanent by the south—descendants of the old south—erecting a monument to Abraham Lincoln and have a "blended Memorial day."

T. A. CUNNINGHAM.

Atlanta, May 31, 1915.

Sings Way Around World.

(From The Kansas City Post.)

Singing one's way around the world is not as easy as it sounds, according to George de Coligny, who passed through here on the last lap of such a journey. Coligny is in a race to win $2,500 offered by the Authors Association of New York. Four contestants entered the race, starting from Bangor, Maine, thirty-five months awo. One is now a prisoner of war in France. Coligny does not know where the others are. Coligny has traveled more than 30,000 miles.

"Something greater than $2,500 prize is drawing me to the end of the journey," said Coligny. "I have a baby I have never seen, born seven months after I started on this trip."

LAKEWOOD CONCESSION BIDS HELD UP TUESDAY

Mayor's Action Taken on Account of the Southeastern Fair.

Mayor Woodward Tuesday held up the opening of bids for concessions at Lakewood park, when he told the park board that the Southeastern Fair association is planning such extensive improvements at the park that no one could tell just at this time what the concessions would be worth next year after the fair is established. Several bids had been filed with the park board for the concession, but they were not opeend.

After discussion the board voted to allow J. Billet, the present concessionaire at the park, to remain there for ninety days, and after that time he must agree to vacate a portion or all of the park upon demand of the board.

General Manager J. O. Cochran submitted his monthly report, showing unusual activities in improvement work in all the parks. His report also showed more persons patronizing the parks this season than ever before. In the few days that Claramere lake has been open at Piedmont park, 10,273 persons have gone in bathing, and no disorder was reported.

Board Highly Pleased.

Members of the board expressed themselves as highly pleased with the work of the general manager, and stated that they were gratified at the interest being shown by the people of Atlanta.

A letter was read before the board from R. C. Congdon, of the humane society, in which he severely criticised Manager Cochran and his methods of conducting the parks. He based his complaints on the action of the general manager in putting him off the sod at Piedmont park recently. The general manager stated that Mr. Congdon was accustomed to riding his horse on the sod and damaging property no other citizen was allowed to use. He also stated that Mr. Congdon had given the police considerable trouble in this regard.

The board members had no criticism to make of Manager Cochran's actions in the case in question nor in the general management of the parks. They directed that the correspondence be filed without comment, and President Ben Lee Crew was instructed to acknowledge receipt of the letters.

Want Playground Change.

A delegation of negroes appeared before the board to ask that a change be made in the playground directors of the negro playground in the fifth ward. They said they wanted the same director they had last year, giving, as their reasons, that she resided in the fifth ward and knew the children who frequented the park. The matter was referred to a committee with power to act.

Through the efforts of Councilman George Freeman, of the third ward, and a member of the park board, the Independent Order of Beavers agreed to give to the board two beavers for one of the city parks. No expense is attached to the gift. The board officially accepted the offer and will send a letter of thanks to the order.

The board some time ago purchased two beavers, but both died. They were brought to Atlanta from Canada, and the long trip, change of climate and diet is believed to have caused their death.

UNIFORM LODGE, NO. 123, HONORS J. ED WALKER

Uniform lodge No. 123, the largest and strongest lodge of Knights of Pythias in the south, held its semi-annual election of officers last night with a large attendance present. J. Ed Walker was elevated from the office of vice chancellor to chancellor commander of the lodge, which he has served for many years.

Other officers elected were: Vice chancellor, J. L. Moore; prelate, R. M. Andrews; master of work, Ed L. Humphreys; master-at-arms, V. E. Key; inner guard, E. C. Nixon, outer guard, J. H. Andrews.

Officers who will hold over are W. G. Moore, master of finance; M. P. Harrison, master of exchequer, and B. L. Owens, keeper of record and seal.

Reports from officers showed the lodge in good condition in every department. Highly interesting reports were heard from representatives to the grand lodge, which met recently in Savannah. They were Lawton Nally, B. L. Owens, Dr. W. F. Cross, Charley L. Jones and W. G. Moore.

"JITNEY" DECISION EXPECTED IN A WEEK

The decision of the state railroad commission upon the question of whether or not "jitney" buses are common carriers and subject to regulation as such is expected within a week. While it would not be surprising if the commission should decide that "jitneys" are subject to the commission's regulation as common carriers, the members of the commission have made no statement for publication upon the matter.

MAYOR IS READY TO USE KNIFE ON MONEY SHEET

Meeting of Committee Is Called for 11 O'Clock Thursday Morning.

Mayor Woodward is not going to wait this time for the finance sheet to get to general council before attempting to get at it with his pruning knife. Following a conference Tuesday with Chairman A. W. Farlinger, of the finance committee, a meeting of the committee was called for Thursday morning at 11 o'clock in the mayor's office.

At the Thursday meeting the mayor will submit some figures he has gotten from the various city department heads and will ask the committee to reduce their figures on anticipated revenue. This would mean that many proposed improvements would have to be cut off and the ward representatives declare they will not submit to such a course without contest.

Too Many Ward Schemes.

"There are too many ward schemes cared for in the sheet," said the mayor. "The schools should be cared for above all other improvements. While they are not in as bad condition as some has claimed, we know there is much room for improvement and general council should go as far as their finances will permit in caring for immediate needs."

Chairman Farlinger said he would contend for $100,000 for schools as formerly and would ask for a reduction in appropriations for ward improvements. Alderman C. C. McDonald will also support him in his contention for a larger school appropriation and for a reduction in the anticipated revenue.

"The committee has been unreasonable in anticipating so much revenue and at least $75,000 to $100,000 should be cut from the figures they have made appropriations for," said Chairman Farlinger. "As far as my ward, the fourth, is concerned, we are willing to sacrifice everything for schools and the other ward representatives should take the same position."

$100,000 Is Wanted.

The June sheet, already drawn, carries an aggregate appropriation of $83,231 for schools. Chairman Farlinger will ask that this sum be increased to at least $100,000.

Alderman C. H. Kelley stated that the mayor may attempt to cut down the income side of the June sheet, but since that would mean many ward improvements would have to be sacrificed, he did not believe the committee would agree to the reduction.

"The representatives of one ward will not be willing to sacrifice improvements when they know that another ward will be cared for in the budget," said Mr. Kelley. "In making up the sheet, we felt that we were taking care of only urgent needs and I don't see how we can afford to make any reductions. I think our financial condition is much more encouraging than the mayor pictures it."

Clyde Belcher Held By Birmingham Police On Charge of Robbery

Birmingham, Ala., June 1.—Clyde Belcher, alleged to have been implicated in the hold-up of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Kelley in Atlanta last March, was arrested here tonight by local detectives. The arrest was made at the instance of Atlanta authorities. Belcher admitted his identity, but denied all knowledge of the hold-up.

In the robbery for which Belcher is arrested it is stated that Mr. and Mrs. Kelley lost $1,260 in cash, several watches, pistols and a quantity of jewelry. According to the police, Mrs. Kelley recognized one of the men as Clyde Belcher. Belcher left Atlanta on the day following the robbery and had not been heard of until his arrest today.

When seen tonight by a representative of The Constitution Belcher declared that he had known for some time that he was wanted in connection with the robbery, but that he knew nothing of the crime and that he would establish his innocence when the time came. He said he arrived in Birmingham today.

Atlanta police were notified of the arrest last night by a wire from Chief of Police Martin Eagan. The message also stated that the prisoner waives requisition papers. The local police have also made preparation to bring Belcher to Atlanta as soon as possible.

BRINSMADE IS EDITOR OF THE ATLANTA GUIDE

H. H. Brinsmade, manager of the Atlanta Monthly Guide, wishes it stated that Robert Sparks is not editor of the periodical, as was stated in last Sunday's Constitution.

"Mr. Sparks," he states, "was only engaged by me as an advertising solicitor. I own, control and edit the publication except in the matter of soliciting advertising."

Boy Scouts on Hike.

Nashville, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—The Nashville Boy Scouts left this morning before day for Banks pond with Scoutmaster J. Trannie Houze as their leader. This is their longest trip to date, it being eighteen miles to their destination, which is the most popular fishing grounds in south Georgia. They will be there until Friday morning, when they will begin their hike homeward.

WATER CONFERENCE AS ANNUAL AFFAIR WILL BE DISCUSSED

The first conference on water supplies and sewage disposal, held recently at Athens, Ga., under the auspices of the school of engineering of the University of Georgia, proved of such great benefit in an educational way to the scores of waterworks superintendents and other municipal officials who attended, that an effort will be made in Atlanta this week to make the conference an annual affair.

The committee of five, appointed at the close of the Athens conference with the view of arranging for an annual conference, will meet Thursday afternoon at the state capitol, in the offices of the state board of health.

Attending this committee meeting will be Captain R. M. Clayton, ex-city engineer of Atlanta; Professor Charles M. Strahan, of the school of civil engineering of the University of Georgia; Ray C. Werner, in charge of the sanitary water laboratory of the state board of health; C. C. Hommon, superintendent of the city sewage disposal plant, and Captain J. J. Gaillard, city engineer of Macon, Ga.

In all likelihood the Athens conference will be put on a permanent basis.

OIL MILL LEADERS OPEN CONVENTION IN ATLANTA TODAY

At least 350 oil experts and many visitors have arrived to attend the three days' session of the Interstate Oil Mill Superintendents' association, which opens this morning in the Auditorium-Armory.

The Oil Mill Exhibit association has charge of the entertainment features and many forms of amusements have been arranged. Among these is a buffet smoker in the ballroom of the Ansley hotel, Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock, and a barbecue at Cold Springs Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Oil mill superintendents already here are most highly commending the exhibits of machinery stationed in the Auditorium hall. Many of the kinds and classes of machinery have never been seen in this section before, and produce a remarkable effect. It is the most highly developed exhibit, they say, that has been collected on any similar occasion.

This is the first time that this convention has been brought to Atlanta, and efforts are already under way to bring it here next year. The oil men point out that the city possesses convention facilities unsurpassed in the south.

MARY PROVES JONAH, BUT WOMAN REVOLTS AGAINST THIS TITLE

It was Shylock in "The Merchant of Venice" who said, "A Daniel come to judgment." It was Recorder Johnson in the police court who said, "A Jonah come to judgment."

Mary Howard is the Jonah of Peasville, a segregated segment of Darktown. It was stated that she had become such an ill omen, such an antithesis of a mascot, that nobody in Peasville will permit her to visit any house.

Mary finally revolted at the charge and went to a house and proceeded to "cuss out" the inmates when they ordered her away. She was tried in the police court Tuesday and fined $5.75.

HAMMOND ASKS MONEY AND FOOD TO AID MEXICANS

Judge W. R. Hammond, treasurer for Georgia of the American Red Cross, has issued an appeal to the public asking aid for unfortunate Mexican women and children, who are said to be facing death by starvation. He will receive at his office, 913 Atlanta National Bank building, such gifts as money, corn, beans, rice and flour, or any other articles that may be donated to this cause.

This work is indorsed by the American Red Cross and local chapter. Donations will be accepted from any member or friend of the Red Cross.

PAYS BOY DOLLAR FOR A NEWSPAPER AFTER BEING FINED

"These people have sworn to a pack of lies on me!" exclaimed James Curry, a son of Erin, in the police court Tuesday afternoon when he was tried on the charge of failing to pay a newsboy for a paper and choking the boy in his anger.

"And to show that I am not the kind of a man to do a boy such a trick I will pay him $1 in addition to the fine imposed upon me."

The recorder had fined him $5.75.

The boy in the case, Fred Eisley, of 425 Piedmont avenue, took the dollar bill gratefully and departed smilingly.

WORKED UP FAKE CASE SO AS TO GET REWARD

Macon, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—"Pet" Pritchett, a mill hand, was this morning given his freedom when the evidence brought out at a commitment trial before United States Commissioner L. M. Erwin failed to show he was connected with the robbery of the postoffice at Crump's park on the night of May 22, when fifty pennies were taken.

Evidence against Pritchett was given by two other mill hands, G. D. Moon and H. Bowman, who admitted at the hearing they had worked up the case against Pritchett in the hope of securing the $50 reward offered by the government in such cases.

RAINFALL FOR MAY FAR ABOVE NORMAL

The Precipitation on One Day Greater Than Usual Amount for Whole Month.

The rainfall of the month of May, according to the monthly report issued yesterday by the weather bureau, was far above normal, due largely to the terrific rainstorm which struck the vicinity May 7.

The average fall is 3.09 inches, while that of the month just past attained a degree of 6.11 inches. The precipitation on May 7 was 3.85 inches, an extraordinary record.

The fall on May 7 did much damage to this territory, and caused a marked rise in the Chattahoochee river, but was otherwise beneficial, especially to agricultural conditions. The days of rainfall for May were ten, but, after the 7th, the rains were beneficially distributed.

The following is the weather bureau's monthly report:

Had it not been for the excessive rainfall at Atlanta on May 7th of 3.85 inches in 24 hours, the precipitation for the month of May would have been close to the normal amount. This heavy rain caused some local damage and a marked rise in the Chattahoochee river, but otherwise was rather beneficial. Rain occurred on ten days during the month, and the total was 6.11 inches, as compared with a normal for 37 years of 3.09 inches. After the 7th the rainfall was well distributed in occasional light showers, with brief periods of fine weather between. The wettest May on record was May, 1901, with 7.55 inches, and the driest May, 1914, with .30 inch. Almost every shower during the current month was accompanied by moderate thunder and lightning.

The monthly mean temperature, 75.5 degrees, was just two degrees above the 37-year normal. Neither the maximum nor the minimum for the month was exceptional; 90 was attained on two days, and the minimum was below 60 degrees on eleven days, but did not fall below 50 degrees. The highest temperature recorded was 97 degrees on the 26th and the lowest was 54 degrees on the 28th. The previous maximum on record was 97 degrees in May, 1914, and the previous minimum 38 in May, 1898. The coldest May occurred in 1882 and the warmest in 1896, the monthly mean were respectively 66.6 and 74.9 degrees.

The prevailing winds were from the west, with an average hourly velocity of 10.6 miles, and a maximum of 42 miles from the northwest on the 30th. There were ten clear, eleven partly cloudy and ten cloudy days. The month was uneventful, and generally quite favorable for agricultural interests.

W. F. Woodliff Dies; Worked for 30 Years On The Constitution

Warren F. Woodliff, 59 years old, died at his residence, 86 Whiteford avenue, Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, after more than a year's illness.

Mr. Woodliff was connected with the circulation department of The Constitution for thirty years and at one time was the agent at Gainesville, Ga. On account of ill health he severed his connection with The Constitution about two years ago.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. P. L. Cheek, Mrs. Estelle Porte, Miss Ada Woodliff and Miss Nell Woodliff; two sons, Charles H. and W. F. Woodliff, Jr., and a brother, A. H. Woodliff, of Forsyth county, Ga.

The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

STOLEN BILLY GOAT WAS HARD TO MANAGE

It is futile to try to steal a billy goat in Atlanta, as was proven by the trial in police court Tuesday afternoon of Oscar Cooper, a negro youth.

Oscar stole a billy and was caught by a sleuth before he had time to sell it. The city's sleuths were keen on the scent.

It was stated to the recorder that the billy was well up on butting and he was trying to butt a boy on the street when a detective came up and made the arrest.

Oscar pleaded guilty and was sent to the stockade for thirty days.

COLUMBUS HOSIERY MILL TO RUN NIGHT AND DAY

Columbus, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—Beginning tomorrow, Perkins hosiery mills will run day and night until the plant catches up with orders. The double shift is necessary on account of the heavy orders the company has on file, and indications now are that this arrangement will continue for some months. Many additional spinners, doffers and winders are thus given employment.

ORPHEUM TO BECOME BUSINESS BUILDING

Improvements on Once Popular Playhouse Will Cost About $50,000.

The Orpheum, once the home of vaudeville and later of the legitimate, but in recent years dark, is to give way to a new, reinforced concrete, three-story and basement building, with exterior finishing of gray pressed brick, which is to be erected by J. N. Hirsch, the wholesale grocer, who now operates a store adjoining the once popular Marietta street playhouse.

Mr. Hirsch is now negotiating with Architect Downing, who has completed plans for the new building, the ground dimensions of which will be 60x200.

It is not definitely decided whether an entirely new building will be erected, or the Orpheum theater remodeled.

It is understood that Mr. Hirsch will invest approximately $50,000 in the new building, which will be used for business purposes. According to reports, Mr. Hirsch will occupy part of the building and lease the other.

No building permit will be taken for several days, but it is understood that work will commence next week.

Supreme Court Asked To Fix Size of Bail For Innes and Wife

Washington, June 1.—Formal application was made today to the supreme court for bail for Victor L. Innes and wife, pending their appeal to that tribunal from the decision of the Texas state court holding them subject to extradition to Georgia to answer charges of larceny after trust.

Application for bail first had been made to Justice Lamar. He preferred to have the entire court pass upon the application and fix the amount of bail. The application will be decided June 14.

FIRE NEAR TERMINAL ROUTS HOTEL GUESTS

The third fire which has occurred within three months in the neighborhood of the Terminal station broke out early Tuesday morning in the Broadway Souvenir company's store at 71 West Mitchell street. As the establishment is situated directly beneath the Terminal hotel the dense clouds of smoke pouring through the building scattered the frightened guests from their rooms in all degrees of dishabille. The quick action of the fire department extinguished the flames before great damage had been done.

All Babies Destined to Great Achievement

To be born is to be great. For there are possibilities in every tiny human infant. And for this reason every one should remember that whatever is done to aid the mother, to relieve her of distresses during her trying months, will surely be of marked benefit to the child.

Among the sterling aids is a splendid external remedy known as "Mother's Friend." It is what is called an embrocation. It is applied to the abdominal muscles, gently rubbed in by your own hand guided by your own mind. It makes the muscles pliant, they expand quite naturally and the effect upon the nerves is such that they adjust themselves to the process of expansion so that pain from this source is almost eliminated. Women who use "Mother's Friend" refer to the absence of morning sickness, they are relieved of a great many minor distresses, all apprehension disappears and those peculiar nervous "fidgets" no longer disturb the nights. It is well named "Mother's Friend." Get a bottle today of any druggist. Then at once write for a most entertaining and instructive book for all prospective mothers. Ashburn's New Chief.

Ashburn, Ga., June 1.—(Special.)—Tom McDonald, who has served on the police force of Ashburn for the past three years, was this morning appointed chief of the police department by Mayor Paulk. The appointment was made necessary by the resignation of John B. Cason, who has served as chief since January, this year.

Positive Relief For Constipation

The progress of modern medical science is, perhaps, no more forcefully evident than in the simplifying of many of the old-time remedies of past generations. For instance, the harsh cathartics and violent purgatives used by our forefathers to relieve constipation are now known to be not only unnecessary but really harmful. Constipation can be more effectively relieved without the discomfort and pain these old-time remedies occasion.

A combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is most effective, yet mild and pleasant. It is absolutely free from opiates and narcotics and equally as desirable a remedy for the tiniest babe as for rugged manhood. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

A Vacation That Shows a Profit

Are you really looking for physical benefit as part of the return from your spring vacation?

Are you taking a few weeks off for fun—or for the end that you may feel better and work with greater ease.

In the latter case, you can accomplish much more by taking your vacation under competent scientific direction. If winter's tasks have left you fagged and exhausted, try a month of genuine rest at the great Health Resort at Battle Creek.

The outdoor sports, the baths, the pleasant social life of a great community give the elements of change and recreation found at any resort; the careful adaptation of these resources to your individual needs affords you the greatest benefit that can be secured from them.

Early spring is delightful at Battle Creek. The golf links are excellent, the tennis courts are ready, outdoor gymnasium work is beginning, the four big swimming pools ignite you. Carefully regulated, but delicious diet, plenty of fresh air and instructions in the essentials of health building all make for genuine rest and improvement in your physical condition.

Your vacation shows a profit, instead of a loss.

Many busy people come to Battle Creek for one month's rest each year and claim that they can do more work in the remaining eleven months than they could have crowded into twelve without this period of scientific rest.

The Persians had a proverb: "The days spent in the chase are not counted in the lifetime."

In the same way—the month spent in Battle Creek is a month of pure physical profit.

GRAY VETERANS RALLY TO WILSON

But They Pray That Peace With Honor May Be Maintained—Gov.-Elect Harris in Stirring Incident.

Richmond, Va., June 1.—Thousands of veteran survivors of the confederacy in reunion here today trudged through torrents of rain to cheer to the echo the hopes expressed by their leaders that peace in America may not be disturbed by the war in Europe. Grizzled wearers of the gray, enthusiastic in the twenty-fifth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans, reiterated their loyalty to the union, shouted themselves hoarse in pledging support to the president of the United States in any crisis, and bowed assent to prayers that those who guide the destinies of the republic might be blessed with wisdom to deal with pending international affairs.

More than 5,000 of the sturdy followers of Lee are here, and at the opening session of their reunion shared their plaudits alike for the rollicking air of "Dixie" and martial strains of "The Star Spangled Banner," while the Stars and Bars and the Stars and Stripes flared from the housetops of the old capital of the confederacy.

Fervent Hope for Peace.

It was a day of tribute to their own departed heroes and one of fervent hope that their sons may never have to experience the baptism of fire that was theirs. This sentiment, uppermost in addresses of the day, brought the veterans to their feet repeatedly at convention hall, but the climax came at the close of an address by Dr. Henry W. Battle, who declared:

"Fifty years have passed since General Lee surrendered at Appomattox. Half a century of peace has brought us to this glad day in a people's history. The flag of the union floats proudly over an undivided and indivisible people; a hundred million voices devoutly sing 'The Star Spangled Banner.'

"We are indeed at home in our father's house. Our president—God bless, protect and guide him—has his hand on the helm of the ship of state, directing her steady course through the storm-tossed waves of a world at war; our secretary of navy is on deck; our attorney general adds his learning to the country's jurisprudence; a southern hero who wore the gray now wears the robe of a justice of the supreme court; in both houses of congress southern men hold the reins of power. Yes, we are at home in our father's house, at home to stay.

"Within our borders all is peace. God hasten the time, by prophets sung, when nation shall not rise up against nation and man's inhumanity to man make countless millions mourn; when every warhorse shall be hitched to a plow; when every spear shall become a pruning hook, and every sword shall be converted into an implement of peaceful husbandry; when the Prince of Peace shall say, 'I have gone up, down and through the earth, and the earth sitteth still and is at rest.'"

Sons Pledge Loyalty.

Frequent references to the European war were made at the convention and also at that of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, who cheered a pledge of support to the president of the United States in upholding the honor of the nation, which was voiced by Clarence J. Owens, of Washington, D. C.

The speaker pleaded that peace might be preserved for America and declared, "But peace can be purchased too dearly, too. It is bought too dearly when it is obtained at the expense of national honor and national justice. We are a people of peace. But if, in the wisdom of our statesmen and of our great chief executive in the white house, it should be decided that our national honor is compromised by the further maintenance of peace, and if the call to arms should then follow, I say that no part of the country will rally more whole-heartedly to the support of the president and his policies than the south, and none more promptly than the sons of the men who fifty years ago took up arms in the south's cause."

These declarations were interspersed with tributes to Jefferson Davis, Robert E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson and other leaders of the confederacy, among them General J. E. B. Stuart, whose widow appeared on the platform at convention hall and was greeted with an uproarious ovation. The tribute to Jefferson Davis was delivered by General B. W. Green, who asserted that the life of the president of the confederacy "one of patriotism, nobility and sincerity, challenges the world's admiration." General Julian S. Carr eulogized the "confederate soldier" and aroused from the throats of his rugged listeners repeated "rebel yells."

Gov. Stuart Welcomes Veterans.

The southern hosts were welcomed to Richmond by Governor H. C. Stuart, Mayor George Ainslie and Judge D. G. Tyler, who spoke in behalf of the veterans of Virginia.

"Fifty years ago," said Governor Stuart, "the sun of the Confederate States of America had just gone down in clouds and darkness. The capital city prostrate, a mass of blackened walls and smouldering ruins, the men and women who had borne with heroic fortitude four years of siege and suffering, with the last shots of the confederacy yet ringing in their ears, were laying in the ashes of their buried hope the foundation of their nobler and statelier city in which we are now assembled."

Judge Tyler compared the confederacy to Belgium in his address to the veterans.

"If ever the dream of universal peace shall be realized," he said, "it will be due to the acceptance by the nations of the principles for which the confederate soldier died—the cause for which Washington threw off his allegiance to Great Britain, and that for which gallant Belgium is being immolated. In thes terrible picture Belgium stands out in splendid contrast, enhaloed with the glory of a noble martyrdom We, too, have tasted of the same bitter cup that Belgium is quaffing, and we drained it to the lees. We, too, trusted to 'a little scrap of paper' and found what a mockery it was. But no matter how the issue may be determined, Belgium will find, as we of the south have found, truer glory and nobler recompense than will the victor of the Dardanelles or the conqueror of Russia.

General Harrison Presides.

The convention was presided over by General George P. Harrison, of Alabama, acting for the commander-in-chief, General Bennett H. Young, who was kept away at the last minute because of illness, and who, it is reported tonight, will be re-elected to command.

Throughout the day special trains continued to reach Richmond from all parts of the south and, with promises of fairer skies, the events of the next few days, which will reach a climax in laying a foundation for a monument to Stonewall Jackson next Thursday, promises to eclipse all past reunions of the confederacy.

Tonight a ball was given in honor of fair sponsors of the veterans from the various states. Attracting wide attention was Miss Mary Custis Lee, only surviving child of General Robert E. Lee. A portrait of Miss Lee will be unveiled tomorrow by Lee chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, at the Confederate Home for Women.

Nat Harris in Stirring Incident.

A stirring incident of the day was the presentation to the convention of the only two living confederate governors, James B. McCreary, of Kentucky, and Nat E. Harris, governor-elect of Georgia. As the veterans stood with clasped hands upon the platform they were given a tremendous ovation from the wearers of the gray.

For the reception of the confederacy, Richmond is arrayed as never before. Every street presents a lane walled with mingled "Stars and Stripes" and "Stars and Bars." All day the crowds continued to arrive and the accommodations of the city are tested to capacity. At Camp Henry C. Stuart, established at the fair grounds, nearly 5,000 veterans slept last night.

TECH HIGH SCHOOL EXHIBIT IS OPEN TO PUBLIC TODAY

At the earnest request of many who did not get to see the exhibit of the work of Tech High school on yesterday the principal, Professor C. S. Culver, announces that the exhibit will be open from 9 until 2 today.

Over 3,000 people visited the school on Marietta street yesterday and every visitor went away commending most highly the work of this institution. The furniture made by the boys was pronounced by competent critics to be equal to factory products. The drawing and literary departments displayed work of a very high character.

The Tech High orchestra and Glee club gave excellent music.

The most interesting group of visitors were the thousand and more boys from the grammar schools.

TINY SAN MARINO MAY ENTER WAR AS ALLY OF ITALY

Rome, June 1.—(Via Paris.)—The little republic of San Marino, 22 square miles in area, although entirely surrounded by Italian territory, forms an absolutely independent state. A serious discussion is now going on in this republic as to whether it shall remain neutral.

The question is more important than appears at first sight. San Marino, standing on a high mountain a few miles from Rimini, dominates the Adriatic. If it continues neutral Austrian aeroplanes could, in time of need, take refuge there, repair, take on new supplies and return home. This would not be possible if San Marino joined with Italy in the war.

Sweet Loot Recovered And Negroes Arrested By Plain Clothes Men

Two negroes who, it is charged, had robbed the warehouse of R. D. Wilder & Co. of ten gallons of syrup, were apprehended in short order last evening by Plainclothesmen Sergeant Bullard and Shaw as they boarded a car at Lee and Gordon streets.

The officers observed them enter the car with the loot and suspecting thievery confronted them with the charge. The negroes, it is said, admitted the theft. At the station house they gave their names as Charlie Ware and Raymond Tate.

E. Merlin, 72 Foundry street, was robbed of $30, Monday evening about 11:30 o'clock. He reports to the police that he was held up by a negro as he was returning home. Officers have a discription of the thug.

As E. P. Boring was boarding the Decatur car at Pryor and Edgewood, he was robbed of eight dollars and change, according to a report in the hands of the police. He states that a pickpocket was at work in the crowd that usually meets this car.

Loot composed of a lady's gold watch, a gold chain, a gold ring, a small sum of money and a flashlight was stolen by thieves Saturday evening from the residence of E. H. Worrell, 94 Oak street. No trace of the burglars has been discovered by the detectives working on the case.

Save on Silk Stockings And Further Aesthetics, Club Women Are Asked

Portland, Ore., June 1.—The mid-biennial council of the General Federation of Women's clubs met here today and listened to a discussion of art and music.

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, of Minneapolis, suggested that each of the two million members of the federation deny themselves one pair of silk stockings a year and contribute the money toward the endowment fund for work of the federation's department in aesthetic lines.

This plan was opposed in conference and it seems doubtful if it will be presented to the general session of delegates.

AT THE THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

The startling success of this week's program at the Forsyth theater is shown in the enthusiastic reviews of the newspaper critics. The headliner is Long Tack Sam, supported by a praiseworthy troupe of Chinese magicians, death-defyers and mystic expert. Bob Warren, the monologist, is a riot; Dunbar's Singing Bell Ringers is an usually appealing act. Mrs. Gene Hughes and company, including Mr. Hughes, present the laughable playlet, "Lady Gossip;" Marie Fenton has brought some brand-new songs and a splendid wardrobe; the Dainty English trio open the performance with a repertoire of songs, and Skipper and Kastrup sing the season's latest selections.

"Island of Regeneration."

(At the Grand.)

Charming Edith Storey, the versatile idol of the films and one of the most capable stars of screenland, portrays the leading role in the famous Cyrus Townsend Brady drama, "The Island of Regeneration," being offered at the Grand theater today and tomorrow. The picture is reputed to be the most masterful production of the Vitagraph studios. In scenic splendor, dramatic worth and photographic beauty it is said to be incomparable. The story of "The Island of Regeneration" is one of intense drama, threaded with a vein of love and affording Edith Storey unlimited play for her talents. It will be followed Friday and Saturday by John Mason, the stage favorite, in "Jim the Penman."

"Four Feathers."

(At the Strand.)

"Four Feathers," a thrilling war drama made by the Dryeda Art Film corporation at their New York studios and staged under the able direction of J. Searl Dawley, will be the attraction at the Strand theater today.

"Four Feathers" has to do with war, its horrors and its rewards, and therefore has those features in scenes of action which appeal strongly to all who love adventures where the element of danger is always present. This picturization of Captain A. E. W. Mason's famous story has nothing to do with the present European conflict. It is a five-reel feature, starring Howard Estabrook, well known on the legitimate stage, and has Irene Warfield playing the opposite lead.

"Wormwood," by Marie Corelli, and made in New Orleans with Ethel Kaufman and an all-star cast, will be shown at the Strand in the near future. The picture was produced by the Fox Film corporation.

DECISION ALLOWS COUNTIES TO CARE FOR ALL LUNATICS

An embarrassing situation which frequently has faced Georgia counties was solved on Tuesday by an opinion of Attorney General Warren Grice, who ruled that in cases where a lunatic is held in a county and cannot be taken to Milledgeville because the state of his citizenship cannot be definitely established, the ordinary of the county in which he is held may certify that he is a citizen of Georgia and thus have him taken care of at the state sanitarium.

The instance in question came up in the case of a stranger in Habersham county, who was arrested and declared by a jury to be insane. An attempt was made to have him taken into the Milledgeville asylum, but he was refused admittance on the ground that Ordinary J. A. Robertson, of Habersham county, had not certified that the man is a citizen of Georgia.

Ordinary Robertson, being unable to establish the man's citizenship in this or any other state, appealed to the governor's office, from where the question was put up to the attorney general. The attorney general ruled that the man may be considered a citizen of Georgia until it is established otherwise. Meanwhile the man has been held in Habersham jail, and will now be sent to Milledgeville

Rogers Holds Crackers Safe And Vols Win Game, 5 to 2; Only One Game Was Played

By Blinkey Horn.

Nashville, Tenn., June 1.—(Special.) Scott Perry suffered another defeat at the hands of the Vols this afternoon after rain had made the first game of the scheduled double-header impossible, and was lifted in the fourth inning after the Schwartzmen had scored four runs. They added another off Lindy Hiett, who relieved Perry in the fourth, while Tom Rogers gave the Crackers but a pair of tallies, making the count 5 to 2.

Rogers was in great form with runners on bases, and the dark day added to his effectivenes.

Nashville had runners on bases in every inning except the fourth and eighth, while nine Crackers were left stranded. Rogers, aside from pitching a masterly game, helped in the scoring when he fired a single past Bisland in the second with the bases full. Two runners counted. The diamond was sloppy from a steady downpour of rain, but the fielding was remarkably clean, Dodge being the only player charged with an error.

Lee Hits Well.

After Manning had lifted to Kircher in the fifth, Eibel walked and reached second when nobody could handle Hiett's dinkey roller in front of the plate. Lee scored Hack with a shot to left field, but Williams and Bisland were easy infield outs. In the seventh, after Eibel fanned and Hiett flew out to left, Lee singled for the third time. He stole second while Rogers was winding up, and crossed the plate on Williams' shot over second.

The Crackers rallied in the ninth after Manning whiffed. Eibel singled, but was forced by Sid Smith, pinch-hitting for Hiett. Lee singled for the fourth time, and King raced over into left field to spear Williams' liner. Farmer's Texas leaguer. Dodge's single, Street's bunt, on which Williams refused to call Farmer out at third, and Rogers' single past short scored two for the Vols in the second with none out. After Stark had been hit, Street scored on King's sacrifice fly. Rogers was forced at third and Paulet forced Baker. A single by Kircher, Farmer's two-bagger and Street's single scored the fourth Vol run. Singles by Paulet, and Kircher's two-sacker and Farmer's sacrifice fly aded the last tally.

QUERIES ANSWERED

(Under this head the sporting editor will endeavor to answer any questions pertaining to any branch of sports.)

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor: Two out with a man on third, the man at the bat has two strikes called on him. But the next ball he knocks a slow grounder to shortstop, who throws to first. If the runner on third reaches home before shortstop touches the ball, does this count as a run for his side? S. R. D.

The only way the man can score on that play is for the batter to reach first safely.

Dick Jemison, Sporting Editor: Can you inform me as to whether Hack Eibel throws left-handed or right-handed? L. C.

BUREAU COTTON REPORT CONDITION 80 NORMAL

Compares With 79.5 for Ten-Year Average—Georgia Condition 1 Per Cent Better.

Washington, June 1.—(Special.)—The newly-planted cotton crop of the United States showed a condition of 80.0 per cent of a normal on May 25, the department of agriculture announced today in its first condition report of the season, which had been awaited with interest by cotton, textile and other interests. That condition compares with 74.3 on May 25 last year, 79.1 in 1913, 78.9 in 1912, 87.8 in 1911 and 79.5 the average for the past ten years on May 25.

Until the official report of the government estimating the area planted is issued July 1, no calculation will be made by the department's crop experts as to the probable size of the crop. The record yield last season, the decreased foreign takings because of the war, and the low price of cotton early this season, are believed to have influenced planters to reduce their planting to some extent. No official reports as to the extent of the reduction have been made, but unofficial estimates place the area planted at from 10 to 20 per cent less than last year. The preliminary estimate of the planted area last year made the department of agriculture last July was 36,960,000 acres.

While the early season nearly everywhere in the cotton belt was backward for vegetation, planting operations were carried on successfully. The soil in the western part of the belt was well supplied with moisture, but eastward a drouth developed. Toward May 1 excessive rains in Texas and Oklahoma made a replanting necessary to some extent, but the drouth in the east continued. An unfavorable week, except in the central states, followed. During the second week of the month good rains broke the drouth in the eastern states, but in the west conditions were unfavorable because of continued rains. The following week was the best in all portions of the belt the crop had had this season.

Generally favorable weather prevailed, but little rain occurred in the belt during the final week of the month. The soil in those portions of the belt, where rainfall was light, was, in most cases, supplied with sufficient moisture for present needs and no harmful effects were produced, except locally in Mississippi and southern Texas, where the late planted needed more moisture, and in Louisiana, where the crop was suffering for lack of rain. In Oklahoma and portions of Arkansas the soil was too wet for cultivation and the crop was becoming grassy, but in all other portions of the belt the early planted was up to a good stand and well cultivated.

Comparisons of conditions on May 25, by states, follow:

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, June 1.—(Special.)—Liverpool came lower under the influence of the German note and sent selling orders here, which were executed at a decline of from 10 to 12 points.

Apparently this was the only supply, because the recent rainy weather in the cotton belt has made the trade a little less positive on the condition of the crop.

The government estimate of condition as 80 on May 25 was about as expected, because the trade felt that the condition as given last season was too low.

After it was published the market slowly advanced, closing steady at the prices of last Saturday.

This improvement was due to a small covering demand, finding few sellers rather than to any change of opinion of the trade, which remains bearish on the belief the political situation may at any time become acute. HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New York, June 1.—(Special.)—As Germany's reply to the American note is inconclusive and consequently leaves the point at issue still to be settled, the market today displayed an unsettled tone under miscellaneous selling, which forced prices to decline of some 12 points.

However, the undertone showed no weakness and the market continues to give evidence of a well liquidated position. The issuance of the government report making the condition of the crop 80 per cent of normal was about in line with expectations and therefore had little effect.

Politics is still the dominating influence, to which everything else is subordinated at present. JAY. BOND & CO.

New York, June 1.—The first government crop report of the session failed to create any fresh sentiment of consequence in the cotton market today and trading continued very quiet with prices steady net 1 point lower to 1 point higher.

The market opened barely steady at a decline of 8 to 11 points in response to relatively easy cables.

There appeared to be considerable scattering liquidation owing to expectations of a favorable official condition report at midday and nervousness over the international situation. Offerings, however, were by no means aggressive, and the market was steadied around the opening figures by covering a little support from local bulls. Rallies of 4 or 5 points followed, but were barely maintained, with October contracts ruling around 9.62, when the government report was issued.

The official condition of 80 per cent against 79.5, the ten-year-average, was, if anything, slightly under average expectations, and led to a little flurry of local bull suport and covering, on which the more active positions sold a point or two above Saturday's figures during the afternoon.

The close was a shade off from the best under scattered realizing and business at no time during the day was active enough to suggest any material change in the situation. Traders are evidently inclined to wait for political developments or something new in the way of southern spot conditions.

Politics Ignored in New Orleans.

New Orleans, June 1.—Cotton made considerable show of strength today on wet weather in the eastern half of the belt, and late in the session stood 12 to 16 points over yesterday's last quotations. The close was at a net gain of 9 to 12 points. Less attention than usual was paid to the political situation, and the first government report of the season on the condition of the crop, putting the percentage at 80 on May 25, had no influence on values.

Around the opening the market had a waiting attitude, and sentiment was bearish on the strained relations brought about by the German reply to the American note on the Lusitania. No great amount of selling appeared, however, and prices went a couple of points under yesterday's close.

The condition figures at 11 o'clock just about met average expectations, and as soon as they were digested buying orders poured into the ring on the theory that the condition of the crop had fallen off since May 25, because of excessive rains. The forecast of more rain in the Atlantics increased the buying movement in the afternoon.

NEW YORK STOCKS DIP AND RECEDE

Anxiety Over Delicate German and Mexican Situation Splendidly Offset by Domestic Improvement.

New York, June 1.—Stocks were dull and heavy today following the publication of Germany's reply to Washington's note of inquiry. Affairs in Mexico, which point to decisive action by this government, also entered into speculative calculations. Opening prices were lower by one to three points, war specialties and other manipulated issues losing most ground. Later some of these stocks made general recoveries.

Foreign exchange continued to reflect the sensitive state of the European money markets. Local time loans were easier. Domestic developments were mainly favorable, ranging from the $2,000,000 net increase reported by the New York Central system for April, to another dividend increase by one of the large copper companies. Western freight shipments of various classifications are up to last year's average.

Bonds easier with little investment inquiry. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,274,000.

United States bonds unchanged on call.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, June 1.—Cotton seed oil was easy, closing at a net decline of 4 to 11 points. Liquidation was general on the weakness in lard and grain and there was also considerable pressure from local bears in evidence. Sales, 17,500 barrels.

WHOLE CHICAGO LIST BREAKS WITH WHEAT

Convincing Arguments of Bumper Wheat Crop for 1915 Saddles Bear on the Board of Trade.

Chicago, June 1.—Estimates that the 1915 crop of wheat in the United States would be 50,000,000 bushels more than was indicated for the growth at this time a year ago had a good deal to do today with a sharp decline in prices. The market closed steady, but 3-4 to 4 5-8 under Saturday night's figures. Other leading staples, too, showed a net loss—corn 7-8@1 to 1 1-8@1 1-4, oats 1 1-4@1 3-8 to 1 3-4@1 7-8 and provisions 5@7 1-2 to 20. Corn suffered chiefly owing to sympathy with the break in wheat. In oats as in corn the principal guide was the action of wheat.

Provisions went lower with grain and hogs. Packers were said to be free sellers of lard.

Coffee.

New York, June 1.—The market for coffee futures was lower today under scattering liquidation and trade selling, the former being probably inspired by nervousness over political conditions, while the latter was supposed to reflect free Brazilian offerings of new crop shipments. General business was comparatively quiet, and after opening 1 to 3 points lower, the market eased off further, with the close showing a net loss of 5 to 12 points. Sales, 25,000.

Spot, quiet; Rio, No. 7, 7; Santos, No. 4, 9⅝; Rio 7s were reported offering in the cost and freight market at 6.60@6.65.

Milreis prices were 1.50 reis higher at Rio and unchanged at Santos. Rio exchange on London was ⅛d lower. The Brazilian port receipts yesterday, 22,000; Jundiahy, 5,000. Early estimates placed the probable decrease in the world's visible supply for the month at 400,000 bags.

WHITE PROVISION PLANT WINNER IN TEST CASE

Suit Filed Against Company by John Jordan Decided in Defendant's Favor.

The case of John Jordan v. White Provision company, which has consumed the time of Judge Bell's division of Fulton superior court for the last two weeks, terminated on yesterday in a verdict for the defendant.

The case attracted considerable attention on account of the fact that it was a test case instituted by one of the residents of the community adjacent to the plant of the White Provision company, and complained that the operation of the plant caused obnoxious odors, which were injurious to health, destructive of comfort and seriously impaired the value of real estate in the community.

Modern Plant.

The company defended the suit by showing that its plant was modern and sanitary in every respect and that its operation improved rather than impaired the sanitary condition of the community, and enhanced the value of the surrounding realty.

Chemical analyses were made by Dr. George F. Payne and Dr. Edgar Eberhart, of Atlanta, showing that the residues discharged by the plant were entirely harmless, and the officials of the city board of health and county and municipal inspectors testified to the sanitary condition of the plant and its mode of operation.

Verdict Unanimous.

After the testimony had closed and the arguments of counsel concluded, Judge Bell submitted to the jury the question of responsibility for the conditions complained of by the plaintiff, and the jury, after being out only a few minutes, and on its first ballot, which was unanimous, found a verdict in favor of the defendant.

The plaintiff was represented by Judge George F. Gober, Judge J. S. Jackson and Colonel J. R. Anderson, while the defendant company was represented by Albert Howell, Jr., and Arthur Heyman, of the firm of Dorsey, Brewster, Howell & Heyman.

MRS. H. T. PHILLIPS, BELOVED PIONEER, DIES ON TUESDAY

Mrs. Elizabeth Wharton Phillips, the widow of the late Harvey Thomas Phillips, died at her home, 163 Myrtle avenue, early Tuesday morning. She was 77 years old.

Mrs. Phillips before her marriage was Miss Elizabeth Austin Wharton, daughter of Dr. George Wharton, and was born May 17, 1838, at Meridianville, Ala. She was there married to Mr. Phillips on January 20, 1869. She was a resident of Atlanta since 1869.

Mrs. Phillips is survived by three children, Harvey and Elinor Phillips, of Atlanta, and James B. Phillips, of Greeley, Col.

She was a member of the Atlanta Pioneer Women and of the "Butterflies," a group of Atlanta's most prominent women who have resided in the city since the war.

Mrs. Phillips was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church and was connected with the North Avenue Presbyterian church at the time of her death.

She was of a sympathetic disposition and exercised a refined, refreshing influence in the church, in social life, and upon all with whom she came in contact. Her numerous charities were known only to herself. In the dark days of the war and reconstruction she stood as a Spartan woman in defense of the loved traditions of the south and never deviated from that position.

The funeral services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 by Rev. Orme Flinn, assisted by Dr. W. F. Glenn. Interment will be at Oakland.

PACT WITH CRIMINALS CHARGED TO SLEUTHS

Chicago, June 1.—The state began the introduction of evidence today in the trial of James O'd Storen, former police captain, and Michael Weisbaum and Frederick Roth, former detectives, charged with having conspired with criminals to permit burglaries.

Nathan Steinberg, now serving a term in the state penitentiary, the first witness, told of having been in the home of Isadore Wexler when Weisbaum headed a raid.

"He told me to go up on the roof while he arrested Wexler," said the witness. "I gave him $20, all the money I had then, and promised to meet him the next afternoon and give him $20 more."

Steinberg told of having paid Roth $150 and testified he had gone out at night and committed burglary to raise the money for the policeman. He told of a number of burglaries he said he committed under police protection.

It will be a three-story and basement affair, with ground dimensions of 60x200. Mr. Hirsch will occupy part of the building, according to reports, and will lease the remainder.
